CITY FILES AN OBJECTION TO STATE'S BRIDGE PLANS

By a unanimous vote the City Council went on record against the Wisconsin Highway Commission's proposed plans for the bridge across the Wisconsin river in this city, objecting to the lengthening of it thirty feet on the west side of the river, and to the raise of one and one-half percent in the grade of the roadway. The present plans would extend the new bridge thirty feet on the west bank of the river, the bank to be dredged out to widen the channel, and would require the removal of the park there, and calls for a one and one-half percent raise in the grade across the bridge. This would leave the middle of the bridge about four feet higher than the ends.

White Mayor Brilore explained that the city really had nothing to say, they at least could register a protest against the plans. The plans themselves, the councilmen stated, are very attractive but for the extreme raise in the grade and the matter of lengthening. The protest against lengthening is that the river is about one hundred and twenty-five feet narrower between the Witter Hotel and the island, and that if the water can get thru more successfully as it does, there is no need of making the bridge wider to allow free passage.

The members of the council advocated a one percent raise in the grade of the roadway.

COMING TO DALY'S THEATRE

The interesting announcement of Porter J. White's appearance in the now whimsical melodrama "The Visitor" is one of the important theatrical events of the season. Mr. White, whose work as a character actor is known wherever the theatre has patrons, has for some seasons given his time to dramatic sketches in the better class vaudeville theatres and returns to the legitimate theatre with a play that is said to offer him the greatest opportunities of his career.

Being a melodrama, "The Visitor" has its sonorous element, but its whimsical flavor robs the play of any charge of moralism. In the part played by Mr. White the gallant feature is mystery. This quality tinged with humor will be found in most of the classic stage characters, the audience following them with sympathetic curiosity. The story told is one of immediate interest and reaches a terrific point of intensity. While the setting is modern, the theme is elemental and belongs to all times and peoples. With a directness of movement that carries the auditor into its central situation, "The Visitor" works out the destiny of this strange figure and Mr. White's performance is one of the greatest bits of character delineation that the theatre has ever seen.

The best in dramatic art will be seen at Daly's Theatre Sunday February 15th.

BOUGHT IN LOCAL BUSINESS

A. C. McIntyre, of Appleton, has purchased an interest in the Wyse Confectionery, and will make this his home in the future. Mr. McIntyre is an experienced confectionery man and comes to this city very highly recommended. The Wyse confectionery store was opened in this city about a year ago and has enjoyed a very good business since that time.

Mrs. C. F. Youngman of Wautoma is at the hospital at Rochester, Minn., where she underwent an operation. Her daughter, Mrs. E. B. Keeloid, is with her.

PLAN PAVING MANY STREETS NEXT YEAR

Five separate jobs of paving were laid out by the City Council Tuesday evening for next summer's program, when they decided to pave:

First street north from the Library to the end of the Biron pavement.

Fourth Avenue north from Grand Avenue to the forks of the Sigel and Rudolph road.

Second Avenue south from the end of the Third avenue paving to the Packing Plant road, where the present paving ends.

Baker street from Eighth to 12th and on 12th a distance of four blocks to Aprilot street.

All the paving will be of concrete construction and the jobs vary in size from the First Avenue job, which calls for one block of pavement, to the First street job, which calls for more than one mile of paving. The streets that are proposed to be paved next summer will clean up some of the most needed work for some time to come. The matter of connecting up the South Side paving being of importance, that road being a trunk line highway and according to the census figures, the most widely travelled road in the county. The Fourth avenue pavement is also a very important job, this street always being a rather poor one and connects the city with some of the best farming country to the north. The Baker and 12th Street paving will insure a good start toward a paved street to the cemetery.

The First street paving will do away with a rough and heavily travel road to the Green Bay depot and Biron. The petition presented by property owners on Third avenue north for the extension of the paving that was put in there last season, was laid on the table, it being considered that it was not necessary to pave both Third and Fourth avenues north at this time.

The program is the heaviest that this city has ever faced and while the indications are that shortage of materials will prevent its completion, every effort will be made to put in the roads.

IRON MAN WOULD NAME GRAND RAPIDS "TWIN CITY"

A. L. Akey of Biron has written the following letter to the Tribune in regard to changing the name of Grand Rapids:

To the editor of the Tribune:

Dear Sir: I see there is some talk of changing the name of Grand Rapids, but I am unable to understand just what the desire exists. If the name of Grand Rapids was good enough for the past century, why is it not good enough for all time. If a change is actually desired, and it is not considered good policy to go back to the name of Centralia, why would not that of Twin City be a good name? Let me tell you, friends, that when Centralia had the name it sounded good when the brakeman called it off on the train. Centralia deserves a name as well as Grand Rapids for it will be the biggest of the two when Mr. Nash gets his big square built and Mr. Mead does his good work across the street from Mr. Nash and the big First National Bank is built. We want a name on each side of the river and need it bad in order to leave our good old Grand Rapids on the map. Of course everybody has their opinion and I have given mine. I hope I have offended no one and bid to remain, always a friend,

MARSHFIELD WON FROM LOCAL TEAM SATURDAY

The Marshfield highschool basketball team won from the Grand Rapids team Saturday night in a one-sided game, the final score being 29 to 19 in favor of the Marshfield boys. The game was better than the score would indicate and while there was never much doubt of what the outcome would be the Grand Rapids men at different times throughout the game displayed flashes of real basket ball and played as fast a game as the visitors.

Marshfield started out with the lead making a free throw on a foul before the game had progressed very far. They followed up with a field basket, when the Grand Rapids boys came back with a field basket. Marshfield added several more field baskets and a couple of free throws to their score before the half ended, the local men being held to the two points made on their field basket. The half ended with a score of 13 to 2 in favor of the visitors. In spite of the lead Marshfield had gained the game was very fast at times and the teams seemed to be quite evenly matched.

The last half was a repetition of the first half, the visitors making sixteen more points on eight field baskets while Grand Rapids added three field baskets and two free throws to their score, the final score being 29 to 19. The Marshfield team had gained the game was very fast at times and the teams seemed to be quite evenly matched.

CITY FILES AN OBJECTION TO STATE'S BRIDGE PLANS

By a unanimous vote the City Council went on record against the Wisconsin Highway Commission's proposed plans for the bridge across the Wisconsin river in this city, objecting to the lengthening of it thirty feet on the west side of the river, and to the raise of one and one-half percent in the grade of the roadway. The present plans would extend the new bridge thirty feet on the west bank of the river, to widen the channel, and would require the removal of the pack train, and calls for a one and one-half percent raise in the grade across the bridge. This would leave the middle of the bridge about four feet higher than the ends.

While Mayor Brilere explained that the city really had nothing to say, they at least could register a protest against the plans. The plans themselves, the councilmen stated, are very attractive but for the tremendous raise in the grade and the matter of lengthening. The protest against lengthening is that the river is about one hundred and twenty-five feet narrower between the Witter Hotel and the island, and that if the water can get thru there successfully, as it does, there is no need of making the bridge wider to allow free passage.

The members of the council advocated a one percent raise in the grade of the roadway.

A. C. McIntyre, of Appleton, has an interest in the Wyse Confectionery, and will make this city his home in the future. Mr. McIntyre is an experienced confectionery man and comes to this city very highly recommended. The Wyse confectionery store was opened in this city about a year ago and has enjoyed a very good business since that time.

PLAN PAVING MANY STREETS NEXT YEAR

Five separate jobs of paving were laid out by the City Council Tuesday evening for next summer's program when they decided to pave:

First street north from the Library to the end of the Birn pavilion.

Fourth Avenue north from Grand Avenue to the forks of the Sigel and Rudolph road.

Second Avenue south from the end of the Third avenue paving to the Packing Plant road, where the present block basket.

Fifth Avenue south from Grand Avenue to the forks of the Sigel and Rudolph road.

Second Avenue south from the end of the Third avenue paving to the Packing Plant road, where the present block basket.

All the paving will be of concrete construction and the jobs vary in size from the First Avenue job which calls for one block of pavement, to the First street job, which calls for more than one mile of paving. The streets that are paved seem to be paved next summer will clean up some of the most needed work for some time to come. The matter of connecting up the South Side paved blocks is of importance, that road being a trunk line highway and according to the census figures, the most widely traveled road in the country. The Fourth avenue paving is also a very important job, this street always being a rather poor one and connects the city with some of the best farming country to the north. The Baker and 12th Street paving will insure a good road to a paved street to the cemetery. The First street paving will do away with a rough and heavily travel road to the Green Bay depot and Birn.

The petition presented by property owners on Third avenue north for the extension of the paving that was put in there last season, was laid on the table, it being considered that it was not necessary to pave both Third and Fourth avenues north at this time.

The program is the heaviest that the city has ever faced and while the indications are that shortage of materials will prevent its completion, every effort will be made to put in the roads.

MARSHFIELD WON FROM LOCAL TEAM SATURDAY

The Marshfield high school basketball team won from the Grand Rapids team Saturday night in a one-sided game. The final score being 29 to 10 in favor of the Marshfield boys. The game was better than the score would indicate and while there was never much doubt of what the outcome would be the Grand Rapids men at different times throughout the game displayed flashes of real basket ball and played as fast a game as the visitors.

The Marshfield team had things pretty well their own way during the last period, dropping in basket after basket, and bringing some good team work into play.

The lineup of the local team was:

Meinier, Millenbach, Holberg, Gaulke and Matthews.

The Scout Masters and the Faculty of the high school played a curtain raiser for the big game, the Scout Masters winning by a score of ten to three. The game was the first one played by either team and while there were individual stars with each organization the game itself afforded considerable amusement for the spectators.

The lineup of the local team was:

Baker and 12th Street, to toward a paved street to the cemetery. The First street paving will do away with a rough and heavily travel road to the Green Bay depot and Birn.

RAISE SALARIES OF CITY'S EMPLOYES

A general advance in salaries to the city administrators and employees was granted at the council meeting Tuesday evening when the city dads decided to raise the mayor's salary from $3,000 to $5,000 a year, and went down on the line boosting the pay to meet the new higher cost of living. The city engineer came next with a raise from $2,000 to $2,400, the city clerk's salary was fixed at $1,200, while the city labor was advanced from 45 cents an hour to 50 cents. Teamsters were given $1.00 per hour compared with 95 cents an hour last season.

JENSEN'S FLIVVER TRAVELS IN NARROW SLEIGH TRACKS

While the deep snows are holding up a good deal of the winter travel in automobiles, James Jensen, local garage man, has completed an outfit which travels the narrow sleigh ruts and which he goes around the country in. The new rig is nothing more nor less than a Ford narrowed down to a 38 inch tread, the front wheels being fitted up with sleigh rungs and the back wheels with traction lugs which come into play only when the wheels get down in the snow, the pretty deep. On a hard road the car runs along smoothly on the flats in rear and the sleighs drive, but when the road is broken or uneven, the car handles with the sleighs in front. The sleighs are arranged so that they can be put on or taken off in a few minutes by raising the wheels.

According to Mr. Jensen the outfit is pretty handy for getting around in winter and after the road is broken will go almost anywhere. The sleighs run smoothly in front and steer the car more successfully than rubber tire does, he states. There is apparently no difference in the way the car handles with the sleighs in front, and that from the wheel drive, the driver would not be aware that there was anything attached to the front wheels.

Mr. Jensen is also planning on building an air driven sleigh which he expects to be able to run on top of the snow. He has secured an airplane propeller which he will run with a motorcycle engine. He expects to have six inch runners on the affair to prevent it from sinking into the snow.

CONCILIATOR FAILS TO SETTLE STRIKE

Oscar Nelson, Commissioner of Conciliation of the Department of Labor, Washington, is in conference with officials of the Nekoosa-Edwards Paper Company and representatives of the Nekoosa and Port Edwards Unions, and J. B. Nelegar, National Organizer in charge of the strike at Port Edwards and Nekoosa, on Wednesday, attempting to effect an agreement between the mill officials and the men to settle the strike. The conference here brought no results, however, as the company took the same stand in regard to the strike as they have taken thru out the entire trouble, and the men are determined not to return to work without full recognition of the union.

According to both union officials and the Nekoosa-Edwards officials the men do not want to recognize the union as a national organization affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, but are willing that the men should have an organization with the mill which would not be affected by strikes and other troubles within the national organization.

Mr. Nelegar told him that the mill did not seem in any way concerned about the settlement of the strike and that they did not want the national organization. Mr. Nelegar also stated that the Union would keep the strike indefinitely. He states that they are better equipped to keep the strike up now than ever before, ninety percent of the men who were formerly employed at Port Edwards and Nekoosa, now being employed elsewhere, in many cases in better positions.

ELKS CAST WORKS HARD PREPARING MUSICAL PLAY

Practicing individually and as a complete cast practically every evening, the people who take part in the Elks play, "The Time, The Place and The Girl," are handling their parts in an excellent manner, and promise to give Grand Rapids people the best home talent production that has been seen here in some time. The Monday each troop will do some good turn as a unit, preferably for the church under which they are organized. Tuesday each boy will take educational hikes thru the factories; Wednesday will be Father Day and they will enjoy the Father and Son banquet at the armory; Thursday they will have a special exhibit of Boy Scout books at the library; Friday will be Mother's Day; Saturday will be Outdoor day.

GRAND RAPIDS: THE seat of Justice of Wood county, which is located on Sections 8 and 17, T. 22, N. of Range 6 E., is the oldest town on the river, and has a population of about 1,000. It contains, according to an accurate census just taken, 187 buildings of all kinds; and some 30 buildings observed under the process of construction. There is a church belonging to the Roman Catholics, and a Free church is to be built the coming season. There are two school houses, with another in construction; select school has been in operation during the past winter. The place contains 12 stores, 5 grocery and provision stores, 5 taverns, 2 saloons, 2 law offices, 4 justice offices, 3 blacksmith shops, 2 carpenter shops, 2 shoe shops, 1 wagon makers shop, 2 tailors, one cabinet maker, one bakery, 2 lawyers and 2 physicians. There are three saw mills running nine saws and cutting an aggregate of four and one-half million feet of lumber per annum. Below the village and above Point Bays, four other mills with seven saws cutting about seven and a half million feet per annum. In addition to these there are six steam mills in the neighborhood, depending on Grand Rapids for supplies, which produce nearly seven millions per annum. Three miles above Grand Rapids is the extensive lumbering establishment of Francis Birn, which makes some three millions a year.

In addition to the extensive lumbering interests here the book speaks of farming both east and west of the city. It states that the Milwaukee and Horicon Railroad companies have contemplated running a branch line to Grand Rapids from here connecting with the Manitowoc and Mississippian Railroads. The Madison, Portage and Superior road, it is said, would also make Grand Rapids a point in its route.

The book was published under the name of "Hand Book of Stevens Point and Upper Wisconsin" and tells the early history of the neighboring cities as well as Grand Rapids.

The book contains many things of interest to any one that is familiar with the early history of this city, and is a booklet that is treated very highly by Mr. Berard.

POSTMASTERS RESIGN

A. G. Pankow and Ed. Rafferty, postmaster and assistant postmaster respectively at Marshfield, have tendered their resignations, that of Mr. Pankow becoming effective June 1 and his assistant's resignation on February 1, 1920. Mr. and Mrs. Pankow will go to Spokane on account of the latter's health and he will attend to business interests there. Mr. Rafferty and wife will go to Madison, where he will manage the farm implement and machinery business with his brother-in-law, R. G. Nuss, a former Marshfield resident. This makes the third resignation at the Marshfield postoffice within a few weeks.

SELL SIGEL FARM

Samuel Walters, one of the old residents of the town of Sigel, sold his forty acre farm out there last week to Sebastian Hauser, of Pittsville, who takes possession of the farm on the 1st of this month. Mr. Walters sold seven head of stock and his machinery along with the farm. He has lived in the town of Sigel for the past eighteen years and is very well known there as well as in this city. Mr. Walters states that he has not decided where he will locate as yet but will probably wait until spring and buy another farm.

PLAN BIG MASQUERADE MAKING REAL DRIVE FOR GUARD RECRUITS

The American Legion masquerade, which will be held at the armory next Tuesday evening, promises to be one of the biggest affairs of its kind of the season, the members of the Legion preparing to handle an immense crowd for the affair. Special features have been secured to make the masquerade a carnival event as well as a dance and some unusual attractions will be offered. Sixty dollars in prizes are being offered for the best makeups dressed for a variety of costumes.

PLAY STEVENS POINT FRIDAY

The Lincoln high school basketball team has scheduled a game with the Stevens Point Highs on the local floor for Friday night of this week, when they will meet their old rivals. The Stevens Point team has been facing about the same as the local team which would indicate that the game will be a good one. The Boy Scouts will put on a preliminary game.

SCOUTMASTER LENDS GOOD SET OF BOOKS TO LIBRARY

Bob Johnson, who was red-blooded enough to enjoy real adventure, will enjoy the stories written by Morgan Robertson. They are mostly short stories with a distinctive tang of the salt sea air. Mr. Robertson was a sailor of the old school, having sailed both on the Great Lakes and the Seven Seas. The un schooled except in the great universality of experience, he writes with the ease and fluency of a master. A complete set of his stories is now at the public library for the use of the people of Grand Rapids. The set was contributed to the library thru the kindness of the local scoutmaster. It will probably be in the boy's department most of the time, although it is not exclusively a boy's set.

Morgan Robertson, it is interesting to know, was the inventor of the periscope which made the submarine a practical thing. One of the volumes of the set, "Morgan Robertson the Man" relates the events of his life, and is by no means the least interesting of the lot. Many of the stories have the hair raising flavor of Edgar Allan Poe. "From the Darkness and the Depths" is the title of one of this sort. "The Triple Alliance" in which an Arizona sheriff, a member of the Northwest mounted police and a man under indictment for murder which the two were after, were shanghaied on a "Yankee Hell Ship" and how they took the ship away from the captain and went back to shore is a real thriller, with plenty of action and fireworks.

NEW ROME FARMER ASKS FOR DEMONSTRATION PLOTS

In a letter sent out to farmers in different communities by L. L. Ferguson, president of the Central Wisconsin Soil Improvement Association, asking what the farmers of different communities are especially interested in, and what they would like to hear discussed at the Farmers' Institute here next week, Robert Ried, a prominent New Rome farmer, has responded saying that the farmers of his section would like to learn more of soil improvement.

In a letter to Ralph E. Wagers, secretary of the association, Mr. Ried says that the farmers down his way are especially interested in seeing some demonstration plots put in that they may see the actual results of the use of limestone and fertilizers before they attempt anything themselves.

"I don't think there would be anything more beneficial done," Mr. Ried stated, in speaking of putting in demonstration plots in their territory, "and we would be pleased to ascertain the particulars in regard to this matter. I can assure you that we will do our best to give the demonstration a fair trial here as we think it is just what we need and would like to learn all we can about it at the time of this institute if possible."

The interest Mr. Ried has expressed for the farmers of New Rome is quite similar to the favorable expressions that are coming from all over Wood county regarding the institute. Soil improvement will be one of the principal points of discussion and it is possible that later a community meeting will be held in that section, in order that farmers can bring up their individual problems.

Word has been received here of the arrival of an eight and one-half pound baby girl at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Kirkland, of Cedar Falls, Ia. Mr. Kirkland is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Kirkland of this city.

PLAN TO REDUCE PROHIBITION LOSS

Dry Leaders Working on Program of Compensation for Liquor Dealers.

ABOUT 60,000,000 GALLONS

Government May Issue Treasury Certificates in Payment for Stock Held in Bonded Warehouses and Sell for Legitimate Uses.

Washington, Jan. 20.—Prohibition leaders are working out a comprehensive program for reimbursing the owners of intoxicating liquor for the losses to be sustained under constitutional prohibition.

A proposal has been submitted to the treasury department by some of the prohibitionists in congress which provides that the government shall purchase all the liquors now being held under bond, amounting to about 60,000,000 gallons. Treasury certificates would be issued for the liquor and these liquidated only as the government finds legitimate uses for this large amount of bonded spirits.

From ten to twenty years, prohibition leaders estimate, will be required to use up this stock legitimately—such as for medicinal, scientific or industrial purposes.

The fact that many banks, holders of warehouse certificates for government-bonded liquor, will be large losers unless some relief is granted, is drawing support for the program. Prohibitionists believe the plan will provide for a stricter and more economical enforcement of prohibition and decrease much of the antagonism throughout the country to the dry era.

The disposition of the liquor now in bond has been put up to congress squarely by the internal revenue bureau. Extra guards are being placed around all bonded warehouses by the prohibition enforcement division of the bureau. The government must guard all this liquor, and under the present system the expense is fast mounting up into the several millions.

The new program contemplates the concentration of this liquor in several large bonded warehouses, so that its distribution for illegal purposes can be prevented absolutely. At present it is stored in 250 government and about 175 private warehouses, thus requiring a small army to guard it.

A few radical prohibitionists in congress favor the immediate destruction of all this liquor, but others point out that a small supply for medicinal purposes will be needed always.

Refund by the government of taxes paid on liquors held in bond while the owners have been unable to sell or dispose of, redemption by the government of unused tax stamps purchased to be placed on such liquors, and purchase by the government of all liquors in bond are provided by a bill introduced in the house by Representative Smith of Illinois.

As its enactment would result in a heavy drain on the treasury, which the Republican leaders are now determined to prevent wherever possible, it is not believed that the legislation will receive favorable consideration at this session.

Wholesale arrests of bootleggers all over the country were predicted here by John F. Kramer, federal prohibition commissioner.

"With thousands of detectives at work all over the country," said Kramer, "we plan drastic and quick measures to make the law effective."

With the appointment of the ten department commissioners for prohibition enforcement, the government's machinery to be created under the eighteenth amendment to the Constitution was practically completed.

WATER POWER BILL IS PASSED

Senate Ends Ten-Year Fight by Adopting Measure, 52 to 18—Goes to Conference.

Washington, Jan. 18.—Ending a ten-year fight, the senate passed the water power bill, which now goes to conference for the composing of differences between the house and the senate.

The bill provides for creation of a federal water-power commission, composed of the secretaries of war, interior and agriculture, which would be authorized, after investigation, to issue licenses for development of water-power projects "for a reasonable annual charge." The licenses would run for 50 years.

Mexico City, Jan. 16.—San Joaquin, a town of 3,000 inhabitants in the Jalapa district, state of Vera Cruz, was destroyed by an earthquake, according to reports given out by department of agriculture officials.

DANIELS DEFENDS SELF AT INQUIRY

Secretary Says No Organization Ever Did Better Job Than U. S. Navy.

REPLIES TO ADMIRAL SIMS

Declares Officer's Policy Was to Divert Convoys to Guard Merchandise—Gen. Wood Denies Calling Navy a "Death Trap."

Washington, Jan. 21.—There will be a complete and full investigation by the senate of the charges made by Admiral William S. Sims against the conduct and naval policy of Secretary Daniels during the war. The investigation was ordered by the full committee on naval affairs of the senate at a meeting called by Chairman Hale.

The subcommittee now probing the manner in which awards for distinguished service during the war were made will conduct the inquiry as soon as the matters relating to the awards are finished. Meanwhile a court of inquiry is in sight for Admiral Sims if the congressional inquiry does not go to the bottom of all the charges made by the admiral, "and his motives in attacking the naval administration, of which in time of war the president is the actual and active head," Secretary Daniels let it be known.

Chairman Hale said the committee would not complete its investigation of naval decorations in less than ten days. Unless the senate investigation of Rear Admiral Sims' charges or failure of the navy department to co-operate fully with the allies during the war is made to the entire satisfaction of the American people, an inquiry will be made by a naval board, Secretary Daniels announced. He added that "no organization in the history of the world ever did a better job than the navy department was advised."

INDIANAPOLIS NEWS
—GARD WILLIAMS

NEWS OF THE BADGER STATE

Clintonville — The Dr. Freudenberg case now occupying the columns of the public press is of rather unusual interest to at least one Clintonville resident. Mr. H. R. Kopitzke, a local undertaker, while operating an undertaking business in Marquette, had charge of the burial of four persons whose bodies are likely to be exhumed for the purpose of examination. Mr. Kopitzke has been advised to hold himself in readiness to obey a summons to testify in the case now pending.

Eau Claire — During the hour and thirty minutes that he was away from his house attending a movie, Henry Laycock, retired contractor, real estate owner and financier, suffered a severe loss. When he left home a large—and it was absolutely full—barrel of whisky reposed peacefully in the basement of his dwelling, which is located on Eau Claire's main business street and next door to a meat market, but when he returned it was gone.

Madison — Following a careful survey of the influenza situation in the state, the state board of health issued a statement advising the tightening of precautions to prevent a recurrence of last year's epidemic. Except in Milwaukee where a few cases have been reported, the state appears as yet to be quite free from the disease. There are evidences, the board declares, of an increased number of cases of so-called grip that do not, however, partake of the character of influenza, and the question arises whether these might not be a forerunner of the recurrence of the "flu."

Sturgeon Bay — This city will have one of the first public aviation stations in the northeastern section of the state. A large, spacious field will be established on the county fair grounds within the limits of this city. The officers and directors of the fair association have taken official action on the matter, and decided to give a sufficient acreage within their property for a public landing field.

Rhinelander — Six high school youths were required by Municipal Judge C. F. Smith to pay admission to a dancing party after the affair had been enjoyed. The boys broke a window in the armory through which they gained admission to a Co. L. dance. They were later arrested and ordered by the court to pay the regular price of admission, replace the broken glass and pay court costs.

Menahowoc — Announcement is made by the American Exchange bank of a large increase in capital and surplus effected at its annual meeting held recently. A fourth bank soon will be established in the city, the state banking commission having approved the application for charter for the State Bank of Manitowoc. It will be capitalized for $200,000.

Eau Claire — Cupid made a considerable gain in 1919 in Eau Claire county over his 1918 efforts, as shown by the records. The 1919 figures for marriages are 264 as compared with 172 in 1918, an increase of 92 or a gain of over 50 per cent. Marriages of returning soldiers are given credit for the boost.

Marquette — Forty teachers of Marinette county schools completed organization of the Marinette County Teachers' Association. The teachers will become affiliated with the state organization for the betterment of school conditions and to further the movement to secure substantial increases in pay.

All the members of the council called for by the covenant of the League, with the exception of the representatives of the United States, were present when M. Bourgeois, called the meeting to order.

After the appointment of the commissioners, M. Bourgeois proposed the Sunbeam Chemical company, Chicago, with a branch factory near Caledonia, has purchased 250 acres on Half Moon lake near here and will build a fine summer home and garage on it. He has done a lot of clearing on it already and will develop a pure breed stock and dairy farm.

Birchwood — Even the hens in the vicinity of Spooner are aware of the high cost of living and they are doing their share to combat it. One hen owned by S. E. Greer, Spooner, laid an egg 7½ inches in circumference. Frank Hammill, former mayor of Spooner, is in possession of the egg.

Menasha — Motorists in the Twin cities have been notified to stand ready to respond to a call for volunteers to the shovel brigade. After unsuccessful attempts to keep the Appleton-Menasha road open this winter, the plan of forming a volunteer shovel brigade of 100 or more men has been decided upon.

Sheboygan — For the second time within a half year, the Holman Manufacturing company has increased its capital stock, this time from $50,000 to $75,000. The company has also decided to erect a brick addition to its present factory. Six months ago, the capital was raised from $15,000 to $50,000.

Madison — The Wisconsin highway commission has compiled its records of road construction done in the state during the year 1919. The total estimated cost of the 1919 work is $3,769,563.17 for state aid road construction and $707,346.61 for county aid road construction.

Merrill — The Lincoln County Cannery company is a new corporation, comprising some of the most prominent business men in this locality. The capital stock is $50,000.

Madison — During 1919 the public employment office of the state registered 158,587 applications for work, and 183,798 calls for help. The total number of men and women referred to positions was 152,811, of whom 114,908 were reported to have been placed.

Cedarburg — Mrs. Gust Vrenz, Cedarburg, has the misfortune to fall down the steps of her home, breaking both arms. She managed to drag herself to a chair and there sat two hours awaiting the arrival of members of the family.

Rehoboth — When Earl Fiese crossed the street to aid a woman sitting on the steps of an apartment house on Highland avenue, he found his mother dying from apoplexy. She was on her way home from shopping and died soon after.

Hurley — Any movement to change the boundary line between Michigan and Wisconsin to include approximately 400 square miles of Iron county in Gogebic county will be bitterly contested by the Badger city. Hurley is the county seat of Iron county and is loyal to Wisconsin, in fact residents declare they prefer to move than to come under the jurisdiction of Michigan.

Pensaukee — As Fred Welfert pulled a revolver shell from his pocket it fell on the kitchen stove and exploded. The finger and thumb of a 14-year-old son were torn from the hand.

Clintonville — The Bruce Co-operative company has been formed here for the purpose of conducting a large mercantile business. Stock will be sold to farmers throughout this part of Rush county. Temporary officers of the organization are: John Kostman, chairman; H. E. Strong, secretary; J. H. Golin, treasurer.

SENATE IS URGED TO REBUKE SIMS

Resolution Hits the Admiral for Breach of Confidence.

LOGE RUSHES TO DEFENSE

Senator Borah of Idaho Approves Warning Given to Commander—Says Senate is Making Mountain Out of Mole Hill.

Washington, Jan. 22.—A resolution declaring that the action of Rear Admiral Sims in making public "official instructions of the most confidential character," affecting international relations deserved the condemnation of all Americans, was introduced in the senate by Senator Walsh (Dem.), Montana, a member of the naval committee.

Senator Walsh's request for immediate consideration was denied on objection by Senator Lodge.

The resolution quoted from the letter read by Admiral Sims last Saturday:

"Each Member of Congress has used Dr. Price's 'Favoree Prescription' and Pleasant Pollets and they cured me of my ailment. I was taken ill and I think everyone related to me has used them and was cured."

"My husband took Dr. Price's 'Golden Medicina' for his blood and for other complaints, as did his mother, and it also relieved me of my ailment."

"I have taken both the 'Golden Medicina' and the 'Favoree Prescription' as well, whenever I have been feeling right."

"Dr. Price's 'Golden Medicina' has been my 'family doctor' for years. I can recommend them to all. If directions are followed they will always do the work."

—MRS. ELIZABETH DENISON, 1005 N. Johnson St.

AFTER MOTHERHOOD
Kalamazoo, Mich.—"After motherhood I was a bad housekeeper, but I am not any longer. I took Dr. Price's 'Favoree Prescription' and it helped me to help myself. I took the tablets and I feel like a woman again. I am able to help my husband and my children again."

—MRS. ALLIE ALLAN, 1308 N. Edward St.

THOUSANDS OF SUFFERING WOMEN
Kankakee, Ill.—"I cannot write enough to express my thanks for giving me Dr. Price's 'Favoree Prescription' and Pleasant Pollets and they cured me of my ailment. Motherhood left me in a very bad condition of feminine trouble. I was sick about six months. I felt miserable, as did my husband, and it didn't seem to help him either. I took the tablets, and I took the better of the 'Prescription' and was helped wonderfully, being able to do my own housework and other work besides. I feel like a woman again. I am able to help my husband and my children again."

—MRS. W. C. HINDS.

WOMAN'S TROUBLE
Eau Claire, Wis.—"I have used Dr. Price's 'Favoree Prescription' and Pleasant Pollets and they cured me of my ailment. A few years ago I was taken ill and I think everyone related to me has used them and was cured."

PLAN TO REDUCE PROHIBITION LOSS

Dry Leaders Working on Program of Compensation for Liquor Dealers.

ABOUT 60,000,000 GALLONS

Government May Issue Treasury Certificates in Payment for Stock Held in Bonded Warehouses and Sold for Legitimate Uses.

DANIELS DEFENDS SELF AT INQUIRY

Secretary Says No Organization Ever Did Better Job Than U. S. Navy.

REPLIES TO ADMIRAL SIMS

Declares Officer's Policy Was to Diverge Convoy to Guard Merchandise. Gen. Wood Denies Calling Navy a "Death Trap."

Washington, Jan. 20.—Prohibition leaders are working out a comprehensive program for reimbursing the owners of intoxicating liquor for the losses to be sustained under constitutional prohibition.

A proposal has been submitted to the treasury department by some of the prohibitionists in congress which provides that the government shall purchase all the liquors now being held under bond, amounting to about 90,000,000 gallons. Treasury certificates would be issued for the liquor and these liquidated only as the government finds legitimate uses for this large amount of bonded spirits.

From ten to twenty years, prohibition leaders estimate, will be required to use up this stock legitimately—such as for medicinal, scientific or industrial purposes.

The fact that many banks, holders of warehouse certificates for government-bonded liquor, will be large losers unless some relief is granted, is drawing support for the plan. Prohibitionists believe the plan will provide for a stricter and more economical enforcement of prohibition and decrease much of the antagonism throughout the country to the dry era.

The disposition of the liquor now in bond has been put up to congress squarely by the internal revenue bureau. Extra guards are being placed around all bonded warehouses by the prohibition enforcement division of the bureau. The government must guard all this liquor and under the present system the expense is fast mounting up into the severest millions.

The new program contemplates the concentration of this liquor in several large bonded warehouses, so that its distribution for illegal purposes can be prevented absolutely. At present it is stored in 250 government and about 175 private warehouses, thus requiring small arms to guard it.

A few radical prohibitionists in congress favor the immediate destruction of all this liquor, but others point out that a small supply for medicinal purposes will be needed always.

Refund by the government of taxes paid on liquors held in bond in which the owners have been unable to sell or dispose of, redemption by the government of unused tax stamps purchased to be placed on such liquors, and purchase by the government of all liquors in bond are provided by a bill introduced in the house by Representative Sabbath of Illinois.

As its enactment would result in a heavy drain on the treasury, which the Republican leaders are now determined to prevent wherever possible, it is not believed that the legislation will receive favorable consideration at this session.

Wholesale arrests of bootleggers all over the country were predicted here by John F. Kramer, federal prohibition commissioner.

"With thousands of detectives at work all over the country," said Kramer, "we plan drastic and quick measures to make the law effective."

With the appointment of the ten department commissioners for prohibition enforcement, the government's machinery to be created under the eighteenth amendment to the Constitution was practically completed.

WATER POWER BILL IS PASSED

Senate Ends Ten-Year Fight by Adopting Measure, 52 to 18—Goes to Conference.

Washington, Jan. 16.—Ending a ten-year fight, the senate passed the water power bill, which now goes to conference for the composing of differences between the house and the senate.

The bill provides for creation of a federal water-power commission composed of the secretaries of war, interior and agriculture, which would be authorized, after investigation, to issue licenses for development of water-power projects "for a reasonable annual charge." The licenses would run for 50 years.

U. S. MARINES IN FIGHT

AMERICANS AND GENDARMERIE REPEL ATTACK IN HAITI.

Yanks Pursue Outlaws Outside the Capital—150 Rebels Are Killed or Captured.

Washington, Jan. 17.—United States marines and Haitian gendarmes repelled an attack on Port au Prince, the Haitian capital, by a force of 800 bandits, more than half of whom were killed, wounded or captured after being pursued outside the city, the navy department was advised.

While refusing to discuss Admiral Sims' letter of criticism of the department, Mr. Daniels indicated the admiral frequently clashed with the department through his insistence that more destroyers be withdrawn from troop convoys to segment the antisubmarine forces in European waters.

"The paramount duty of the American navy," Mr. Daniels declared, "was to protect the passage of American troops to Europe and the safeguarding of merchant shipping, vital as that was recognized to be, necessarily was secondary."

Secretary Daniels emphasized that, contrary to the popular impression, Admiral Sims throughout the war was subordinate to Admiral Mayo, commander in chief of the Atlantic fleet. He indicated that on the question of the distribution of destroyer strength as well as on other questions Admiral Sims was overruled by Admiral Mayo as well as the department.

"Every naval officer, every document bearing on the navy's war activities," Mr. Daniels continued, "is open to the light of day, and the more thoroughly the entire record is laid before the people of this country the greater the pride they can have in the achievement of their navy. The country will be entirely reassured."

Secretary Daniels said that in the first summer of the war, Admiral Sims was given the title of commander of the United States naval forces in European waters, but that as a matter of fact "his duties were not afloat."

"The business of Rear Admiral Sims was to obey orders," declared the secretary. "His duties were to make recommendations, give us all the information and all the facts and then carry out instructions from the department.

"The country and the world know already that the job of the navy was very well done. Whether on the 27th of June or the 27th of July, or some particular date, we should or should not have sent so many destroyers to a certain place, or whether they could be made ready at that time, or whether it was important to retain some to protect our coasts, were, of course, matters of naval strategy. There may be differences of opinion between naval officers as to those matters, but there is nothing about this job the navy did that I am not willing but glad and happy for all the people in America to know about."

Pearland, Tex., Jan. 21.—"I did not say that our navy was a 'floating death trap' in my speech at Boston," Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood said when informed that he would be asked to appear before the house naval committee to explain his statement quoted to that effect. "What I did say was that the ships that were filled with untrained men in battle were floating death traps."

Senate Is Urged To Rebuke Sims

NEWS OF THE BADGER STATE

Clintonville — The Dr. Freudenberg case now occupying the columns of the public press is of rather unusual interest to at least one Clintonville resident, Mr. H. R. Kopitzke, a local undertaker, while operating an undertaking business in Markesan, had charge of the burial of four persons whose bodies are likely to be ordered exhumed for the purpose of examination. Mr. Kopitzke has been advised to hold himself in readiness to obey a summons to testify in the case now pending.

Barron—Admitting that the bloodhound followed his trail, five days later despite the fact that he walked a number of blocks on cement sidewalks, took the same roundabout course that he did on returning from the county, H. W. Helder, retired farmer, confessed to the police that he had set fire to the barn of W. L. Brown, former neighbor, at which time, twenty-eight registered cattle and valuable farm machinery and crops were destroyed, causing a loss of $30,000. Helder was arrested after the bloodhound which was brought here from Mauston, followed tracks leading from the barn, through fields and streets, to Helder's house in this city. His confession soon followed. Emmity, because of a real estate transaction in which both Brown and Helder figured, was given as a reason for wishing to "get" square with Brown, Helder said. The Guernsey herd of twenty-eight head lost in the fire, was to have been offered for public sale the morning following the conflagration and buyers from all over Northern Wisconsin had assembled here to bid on the stock.

Madison—Following a careful survey of the influenza situation in the state, the state board of health issued a statement advising the tightening of precautions to prevent a recurrence of last year's epidemic. Except in Milwaukee where a few cases have been reported, the state appears as yet to be quite free from the disease. There are evidences, the board declares, of an increased number of cases of so-called grippe that do not, however, parallel the character of influenza, and the question arises whether these chills and fever are a forerunner of the recurrence of the "flu."

Janesville—Six miles of snowed in roadway between this city and Evansville were cleared by men working for the auto trades of the county as an experiment to prove to the county board of supervisors that keeping the highways open during the winter was practicable. Two motor trucks with scrapers and four teams of horses were used. No difficulty was experienced.

Madison—Confessing to the sale of the carcasses of twenty-five deer to twenty-five different parties, said to be hunters unable to secure their own game, at prices ranging from $25 to $50 each, during the hunting season of 1919, Edward Pease, keeper of a Washington county resort at East Claire lake, faces both a heavy fine and from six months to a year's imprisonment.

La Crosse—Fattison park, fifteen miles south of Superior, the gift of Martin Fattison, retired Superior lumberman, was accepted on behalf of the state of Wisconsin by the state conservation commission, W. E. Bircher announced here. The land contains 1,000 acres of timber.

Rhinelander—Six high school youths were required by Municipal Judge C. F. Smith to pay admission to a dancing party after the affair had been enjoyed. The boys broke a window in the armory through which they gained admission to a Co. L. dance. They were later arrested and ordered by the court to pay the regular price of admission, replace the broken glass and pay court costs.

Manitowoc—Announcement is made by the American Exchange bank of a large increase in capital and surplus effected at its annual meeting held recently. A fourth bank will be established in the city, the state banking commission having approved the application for charter for the State Bank of Manitowoc. It will be capitalized for $200,000.

Eau Claire—Cupid made a considerable gain in 1919 in Eau Claire county over his 1918 efforts, as shown by the records. The 1919 figures for marriages are 254 as compared with 172 in 1918, an increase of 92 or a gain of over 50 per cent. Marriages of returning soldiers are given credit for the boost.

Fairborn—A furious battle on the very steps of the reichstag was the climax to the demonstration of a mob of radicals estimated at 90,000 who had left factories and shops at noon and poured through Unter den Linden and the Tiergarten to the parliament building in order to protest against the so-called "Betriebsverfassung," a bill that would place the workers' councils in the various industries on a legal basis.

Twenty of the mob are dead and more than one hundred wounded.

Madison—The Wisconsin highway commission has completed its records of road construction done in the state during the year 1919. The total estimated cost of the 1919 work is $2,769,553.17 for state aid road construction and $707,346.01 for county aid road construction.

Huron—The city of Huron enjoys the distinction this year of having the lowest tax rate of any municipality in the state, the rate this year being $12.26 per thousand dollars. Burlington comes next with a rate of $17.72 and Watertown third, with a rate of $19.72.

Wausau—The Mount View sanitarium, operated by Marathon county, is crowded with patients and there are a number of applications on file for admission. The county board will be asked to authorize an increase in the building to care for 100 patients.

Stevens Point—Miss Helma P. Nelson has been engaged as school nurse at Stevens Point, and will begin her duties in February. She succeeds Mrs. Mary Hanley, who resigned to become welfare worker for the Portage county Red Cross chapter.

Beloit—When Earl Fleiss crossed the street to aid a woman sitting on the steps of an apartment house on Highfield avenue, he found his mother dying from apoplexy. She was on her way home from shopping and died soon after.

Appleton—Yu Shen Huang, a Chinese student, was awarded first place in the interclass oratorical contest at Lawrence college. His subject, "What About China," was a vital one to himself and he won the audience with his sincerity.

Hurley—Any movement to change the boundary line between Michigan and Wisconsin to include approximately 400 square miles of Iron county in the latter will be bitterly contested by the Badger city. Hurley is the county seat of Iron county and is loyal to Wisconsin, in fact residents declare they prefer to move than to come under the jurisdiction of Michigan.

A Blue Day.—As Fred Welger pulled a revolver shell from his pocket it fell on the kitchen stove and exploded. The finger and thumb of a 14-year-old son were torn from the hand.

High Wages for Nurse.—Thirty dollars a day for waiting on a family was the wage at which a woman was hired at Winona, Nov. 1, by a Quaker sheepman to go to his ranch near McDonald, on the Oglala Sioux, and the members of his family were down with influenza.

The Only Substitute.—"I would like to go on some picnics and excursions while I am here, Mr. Hayhoe,"

"Please you, sir, there ain't nothin' don't here but fishin' parties."

Make Your Entry Now for the "Who's Who in Trees"

WASHINGTON.—A "hall of fame for trees" has been inaugurated by the American Forestry Association for the recognition of famous trees and the location of the largest shade tree in the United States. Charles Ladrop Pack, president of the association, says: "There are many famous trees. For example, there is Liberty tree on the campus of St. John's college at Annapolis under which a treaty with the Indians was signed in 1652. The experts tell us this tree is close to 800 years old. We all know of the William Penn Treaty tree, beneath which Washington took command of the continental army. At Oberlin is the elm on the corner of the campus under which was the first log house in which Oberlin college was founded. We want a complete list."

An elm at Huntington, Ind., long has been regarded as the largest shade tree in the country. Now comes Dumont Kennedy of Crawfordsville, Ind., with a picture of a tree on his property and the suggestion that it is larger than the tree at Huntington. This tree has a spread of 90 feet, while the Huntington elm has a spread of only 75 feet.

The list of entries is growing rapidly. The "Wye Mills Oak," near Easton, Ind., covers a third of an acre of ground and has a spread of 140 feet. The circumference 1 foot from the ground is 51½ feet.

From Lisbon comes the nomination of the tree under which the Indians and white settlers came to an agreement regarding iron ore to be used in making kettles. Italip G. Smith of Circleville, enters the Logan elm in that city.

C. C. Royce nominates the St. Joseph Hooker oak at Chico, Cal.; General Sherman estimates that 7,000 men could stand in the shade of this tree.

A. D. Durt nominates the "largest live oak" in the South, at Brunswick, Ga., known to be a veteran in 1763. It has a circumference of 26 feet.

Army Is to Play Polo, the Next Thing to Real War

IT APPEARS that the army is going in for polo. Polo is quite a game; it is about the nearest thing to war obtainable in times of peace. The war department authorizes publication of an announcement by the office of the chief of staff, which says among other things:

It is the desire of the war department that polo should be one of the games to be encouraged and developed throughout the army. To accomplish the aims for which this game is fostered in the service, namely, the development of horsemanship, skill and daring on the part of officers and enlisted men, commanding officers will utilize all means at their command to further the interests of this sport. It is especially desired that teams be developed and maintained at the several division camps and at training centers and regimental posts.

A central polo committee has been established in the war department. This committee will co-ordinate all matters pertaining to polo activities throughout the army. It will secure every assistance possible for the furtherance of the game, and will co-ordinate relations between polo in the service and the American Polo association.

Organizations desiring to take up polo are empowered to use regulation mounts of their authorized quota for this purpose. Regulation mounts of the necessary speed and hardness will be furnished such organization as part of their quota on requisition made to appropriate remount officer.

To units developing teams will be issued on requisition the necessary polo equipment, including saddles, sticks, bats, etc.

Instructions governing participation in match and tournament play, the training and use of horses and the requisition and care of equipment will issue from the war department.

"Wired Wireless"—and Everybody Talking at Once

PERFECTION of a method of "wired wireless," by means of which at fewest ten and possibly 50 conversations may be carried on simultaneously by means of a single wire by persons thousands of miles apart, will soon be announced by Maj. Gen. George O. Squier, chief signal officer of the army.

The method, it was said, makes long-distance telephone communication virtually limitless. Conversations from Argentina to Alaska will be a matter of course, provided single wires are strung between the points mentioned. The new method will save telephone and telegraph companies large sums of money, as by its use one wire will do the work now done by ten or more.

"Wired wireless" is a system of guiding radio currents by means of a wire. The currents travel through the air alongside the wire, which guides them to their destination, it was explained. The method eliminates one fault of the ordinary radio which sends the messages broadcast in all directions. Under the Squier method the wave currents stay close to the wires, thus insuring reliability and secrecy.

The high frequency current travels along the wire, but not in it, passing through the ether as do radio waves, with the difference that instead of being diffused it travels in a path of which the wire serves as core.

Cold-Storage Junk Vs. Cooking of the Countryside

OCCASIONALLY some carping critics venture the opinion that a good deal of "bunk" is perpetrated on the floors of congress. Maybe these critics do not know the difference between "bunk" and oratory for home consumption.

For instance, Representative Thomas of Kentucky, in speaking of a proposed adjournment of congress, is quoted by the Congressional Record, in part as follows:

Mr. Thomas. And that would bring a change of living conditions from cold-storage junk and indifferent cooking to the fresh, pure food and good cooking of the countryside. Congress could there mingle with the thrifty sons and daughters of the soil and breathe the inspiration of nobler thoughts and loftier ideals. The frost is now on the pumpkin, the ripened corn is in the crib, the golden wheat is in the bin, the yellow yams are mellowing and sweetening in the cellar, the succulent persimmon and the toothsome "possum" are now ripened under the cool temperature of frosty, freezing moonlit nights, and all nature is redolent with the perfume of dying flowers and aglow with the varicolored beauty of autumnal forests and the glory and splendor of autumnal sunsets.

And then to contemplate the epicurean richness of a country dinner consisting of country-cured ham; and hog and lye hominy, made only as they know how to make it in Kentucky; accompanied by light, hot biscuits and country-mule blackberry jam and other like delicacies; and to crown all, as a final course, a big, juley, "possum."

Such a dinner is a real and glorious feast, fit not only for a congressman but for the gods; and after it is over, how pleasant to go to the old log cabin in the woods and crawl up into the loft as in by-gone days and be a boy again, and repose on the new-born hay as of yore, and be lulled into peaceful sleep by the patter of the rain on the old board roof, and drift away into dreamland the unadulterated ambition and the pomp and circumstance and vainglory of the world.

Advance and Progress in the District of Columbia

ELECTROCUTION may supersede hanging as a means of inflicting the death penalty in the District of Columbia. A bill making the change was passed by the senate the other day. Senator King of Utah asked Senator Deal of South Carolina, who was in charge of the bill, whether or not those who have made a study of the different methods have recommended in favor of electrocution rather than shooting or hanging or any other method that now obtains in the United States, said Senator Deal:

"I do not know of any extensive study made or report submitted with regard to it, but the method of inflicting the death penalty proposed by the bill obtains in many states of the Union, for instance, Indiana, Kentucky, Vermont, Virginia, and possibly other states. It is a mere matter of advancement and progress, I take it."

The bill provides that only these persons shall be present at the electrocution:

The executioner and his assistants; the physician of the prison and one other physician if the condemned person so desires; the condemned person's counsel and relatives, not exceeding three, if they so desire; the prison chaplain and such other ministers of the gospel, not exceeding two, as may attend by desire of the condemned; the superintendent of the prison, or, in the event of his disability, a deputy designated by him; and not fewer than three nor more than five respectable citizens."

Costly Coat Is in Great Favor

Heavy Outer Garment Is Distinctive Article in Season's Wardrobe.

USE FUR, VELVET AND CLOTH

Favorite Materials Are Lovely as Well as Expensive—Cape Arrangements Prominent in Scheme of Evening Wraps.

Frocks are lovely this season but after a careful study of the season's modes one feels inclined to say that the coat is the distinctive article in the season's wardrobe—coats are so handsome, so varied, so altogether to be desired, and also in these most desirable forms so expensive, says a leading fashion writer.

One can buy a cheap coat, but unless pocketbook limitations positively enforce rigid economy, one is not likely to buy a cheap coat. Temptation to extravagance lurks on every hand. It is easy to be wise when folly does not wear alluring guise; but if a woman gets into a coat shop this season with more money in her pocket than she intends to spend, the chances are that she will invest it all.

Cloths, velvets, furs, all of the materials for the high class coats, are both lovely and costly. In addition, the modish coat is one of such ample fullness that it calls for much of that same costly material. There is no dodging high prices with that combination of expensive material and plenty of it.

Variety in Cost of Fur Coats.

The smart fur coat varies in price with the kind and quality of the fur, but even Hudson seal and caracal mount up if freely used and trimmed with other fur. These are two standard furs for the coat of more moderate price, and, while the seal, which as a matter of fact is dyed muskrat, is the softer and more becoming, caracal stands wear and weather more sturdily. The matter of becomingness is settled by the big collar of long-haired fur or contrasting short-haired fur that is likely to be used upon either the seal or the caracal.

Noted recently were remarkably smart-looking coats of caracal dyed in a bisque or trishade—and in about three-quarter length or even shorter. The collars were draped in loose folds or made, as one especially noted, in hood-like shape at the back. These models were unquestionably intended for rather dressy wear.

But, to return to the subject of coats of exquisite cloths and velvets, so closely allied are these materials that in some instances one can scarcely tell whether it is the cloth or the fur that is the foundation material for the wrap. Especially is this true with regard to the coats of the more expensive type.

Smart Models Pictured.

One coat, handsomely trimmed with fur, was of velours in a beautiful dark brown tone with quantities of beaver trimming. The body of the coat was of a dark velvet, and because of the suppleness of the material it may be manufactured in a variety of ways. Such wraps invariably show a large fur collar and many ways of introducing fur trimming. Often the collar is so large that it covers the shoulders like an enormous fur cape. Again, there may be a velvet collar with wide fur band trimming. Another new and effective model of velvet had a large fur hood falling down over the back of the mantle. The lower part of the wrap was banded by the fur.

All Colors in Vogue.

All the dark velvets are used for afternoon coats. Black, of course, has first place because of its adaptability; but very dark browns, the dark greens, grays, prunes, dark blue, the castor tones, amber and sulphur velvets, and various shades of reds appear in the display of afternoon coats. All of these, without exception, are fur-trimmed—some in dark, long-haired fur like sable or in cheaper relatives. But any and every expensive type of peltry from cable to beaver is pressed into service.

Among the velvet coats is one of the chievel velvets, as well as upon cloth models, and enter into the scheme of beautiful evening coats. But the evening coat is another story. Afternoon cape coats having wide sleeves or just a wide encircling band of fur sewn into the sides of the garment are one of the smartest things this season.

A charmingly picturesque cape coat is of this type and made of blue velvet. The deep yoke is trimmed with several bands of fur. The lower part of the wrap is attached to the shaped yoke with fullness. The arm slits through wide fur-trimmed bands at the sides.

An extremely smart coat and skirt costume is made of brown velours trimmed with dyed squirrel of a darker tone. The bodice of the coat is rather snugly fitted. Fullness is introduced at the hips and trimming consists of bands of the squirrel. The long shawl collar of fur fastens at the waistline with a large button.

Fur is introduced on frocks and suits in all manner of ways. It edges openings in inset panels, and borders semi-fitted long-waisted bodices at the lower part and various other decorative uses are made of it.

HEARD and SEEN at the CAPITAL

Make Your Entry Now for the "Who's Who in Trees"

WASHINGTON—A "hall of fame for trees" has been inaugurated by the American Forestry Association for the recognition of famous trees and the location of the largest shade tree in the United States. Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the association, says: "There are many famous trees. For example, there is Liberty tree on the campus of St. John's college at Annapolis under which a treaty with the Indians was signed in 1822. The experts tell us this tree is close to 800 years old. We all know of the William Penn Treaty tree, beneath which Washington took command of the continental army. At Oberlin is the elm on the corner of the campus under which was the first log house in which Oberlin college was founded. We want a complete list."

An elm at Huntington, Ind., long has been regarded as the largest shade tree in the country. Now comes Dumont Kennedy of Crawfordsville, Ind., with a picture of a tree on his property and the suggestion that it is larger than the tree at Huntington. This tree has a spread of 90 feet, while the Huntington elm has a spread of only 75 feet.

The list of entries is growing rapidly. The "Wye Mills Oak," near Easton, Ind., covers a third of an acre of ground and has a spread of 140 feet. The circumference is 1 foot from the ground to 14½ feet.

From Lisbon comes the nomination of the tree under which the Indians and white settlers came to an agreement regarding Indian lands to be used in making kettles. Ralph G. Smith of Circleville, enters the Logan elm, known to be a veteran in 1763. It has a circumference of 26 feet.

Army Is to Play Polo, the Next Thing to Real War

IT APPEARS that the army is going in for polo. Polo is quite a game; it is about the nearest thing to war obtainable in times of peace. The war department authorizes publication of an announcement by the office of the chief of staff, which says among other things:

"It is the desire of the war department that polo should be one of the games to be encouraged and developed throughout the army. To accomplish this aim, for which the game is fostered in the service, namely, the development of horsemanship, skill and daring on the part of officers and enlisted men, commanding officers will utilize all means at their command to further the interests of this sport. It is especially desired that teams be developed and maintained at the several division camps and at training centers and regimental posts."

A central polo committee has been established in the war department. This committee will co-ordinate all matters pertaining to polo activities throughout the army. It will secure every assistance possible for the furtherance of the game, and will co-ordinate relations between polo in the service and the American Polo association.

Organizations desiring to take up polo are empowered to use regulation mounts of their authorized quota for this purpose. Regulation mounts of the necessary speed and hardness will be furnished such organization as part of their quota on requisition made to appropriate regiment officer.

To units developing teams will be issued on requisition the necessary polo equipment, including saddle sticks, balls, etc.

Institutions governing participation in match and tournament play, the training and use of horses and the requisition and care of equipment will issue from the war department.

"Wired Wireless"—and Everybody Talking at Once

PERFECTION of a method of "wired wireless," by means of which at least ten and possibly 50 conversations may be carried on simultaneously by means of a single wire by persons thousands of miles apart, will soon be announced by Maj. Gen. George O. Sander, chief signal officer of the army.

The method, it was said, makes long-distance telephone communication actually limitless. Conversations from Argentina to Alaska will be a matter of course, provided single wires are strung between the two continents. The new method will save telephone and telegraph companies large sums of money, as by its use one wire will do the work now done by ten or more.

"Wired wireless" is a system of guiding radio currents by means of a wire. The currents travel through the air, which guides them to their destination, it was explained. The method eliminates one fault of the ordinary radio which sends the messages broadcast in all directions. Under the older method the wave currents stay close to the wire, thus insuring reliability and secrecy.

The high frequency current travels along the wire, but not in it, passing through the other as to radio waves, with the difference that instead of being diffused it travels in a path of which the wire serves as core.

Cold-Storage Junk Vs. Cooking of the Countryside

OCCASIONALLY some carping critics venture the opinion that a good deal of "bunk" is perpetrated on the floors of congress. Maybe these critics do not know the difference between "bunk" and oratory for home consumption. For instance, Representative Thomas of Kentucky, in speaking of a proposed adjournment of congress, is quoted by the Congressional Record, in part as follows:

Mr. Thomas. And that would bring a change of living conditions from cold-storage junk and indifferent cooking to the fresh, pure food and good cooking of the countryside. Congress could then indulge in the thrifty sons and daughters of the soil and breathe the inspiration of nobler thoughts and better ideals. The frost is now on the pumpkins, the ripened corn is in the crib, the golden wheat is in the bin, the yellow beans are mellowing and sweetening in the cellar, the succulent persimmon and the toothsome "possum" are now ripened under the cool temperature of frosty, freezing moonlit nights, and all nature is resplendent with the perfume of dying flowers and glow with the varicolored beauty of autumn forests and the glory and splendor of autumnal sunsets.

And then to contemplate the epicurean richness of a country dinner consisting of country-cured ham; and hog and lye hominy, made only as they know how to make it in Kentucky; accompanied by light, hot biscuits and country-made blackberry jam and other like delicacies; and to crown all, as a final course a big, juicy, "possum."

Such a dinner is a real and glorious feast, fit not only for a congressman but for the gods; and after it is over, how pleasant to go to the old log stable and crawl up into the loft as in by-gone days and be a boy again, and repose on the new-mown hay as of yore, and be lulled into peaceful sleep by the patter of the rain on the old board roof, and drift away into dreamland untroubled of ambition and the pomp and circumstance and vainglory of the world.

Advance and Progress in the District of Columbia

ELECTROCUTION may supersede hanging as a means of inflicting the death penalty in the District of Columbia. A bill making the change was passed by the senate the other day. Senator Don of South Carolina, who was in charge of the bill, whether or not those who have made a study of the different methods have recommended in favor of electrocution rather than shooting or hanging or any other method that now obtains in the United States, said Senator Don:

"I do not know of any extensive study made or report submitted with regard to it, but the method of inflicting the death penalty proposed by the bill obtains in many states of the Union, for instance, Indiana, Kentucky, Massachusetts, Nebraska, New York, Ohio, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Vermont, Virginia, and possibly other states. It is a mere matter of advancement and progress, I take it."

The bill provides that only those persons shall be present at the electro-

The machinery, which is usually mounted on a stern-wheel, flat-bottom boat, drops the coal into scows that carry 12 to 14 tons. The recovered river coal brings from 70 to 90 cents at the wharf.

Vast Quantities of Coal Remain in the Mines in an Unminable Condition

Mining is still conducted with serious loss of life and a waste of material amounting to $1,000,000 a day. A government estimate shows that of 6,000,000 tons of coal mined in one year (1914-1915), 3,000,000 was left underground in unminable condition, says Boys' Life. It is believed that more than one-half of this loss is preventable. $50,000,000 worth of petroleum is wasted annually and $75,000,000 in coal mining.

Hello! Purely American Expression, but Originated With French Wolf Hunters

You should try to learn the old wolf hunter's call, because you know the wolf is a scound, and that should be the secret call, writes Dan Bendix in Boys' Life.

This call was used in France first and afterwards in England, but there are no wolves in England now and the bugle call has been forgotten in both countries, therefore we "paint it green and call it our own." Even though William Tell and Robin Hood hugged the same calls before America was discovered, we can make it American the same as we have made the old French wolf hunter's cry American. French was spoken in English court circles, so the titled wolf hunters used the French "hab le ton" or "et lou loup, loup," being pronounced low, the cry being in low; the English put on the II and much tail, and we make it hell-o, which is an American expression, as all the telephone girls know.

RECEIVED NEW CRANE

The county unloading crane arrived in the city last Friday and was unloaded the first of the week. A representative of the company came up Tuesday and demonstrated how to operate it on Wednesday.

Ernest Bean, who has been connected with the county highway commission for some time past, and who has been driving one of the trucks, will probably operate the unloader.

The present plans of the Commissioner and the County Committee are to drag the stone in piles on the west side near the Green Bay bridge, and haul to the job from there. The unloader can be moved wherever desired and will be put where it is needed to be close to the job. The Consolidated has also received a new Browning jammer and crane of twenty ton capacity. The large amount of wood the company will handle for the new sulphite mill required the use of another crane, the company having had one in operation for several years.

CLARK TO GIVE POULTRY TALK

County Agent W. W. Clark will address the members of the Grand Rapids Poultry club at the Auto Trim Co. on Second street north on Monday evening next, when all the poultry men are urged to gather and hear him. There will be the regular meeting of the club from 7:15 to 8: 15, after which Mr. Clark will give his address. The talk will be relative to all the problems that a poultry man faces and should be interesting as well as instructive.

Mrs. Stocking was formerly a resident of this city and is well known by the older residents of Grand Rapids.

SHORT ILLNESS PRECEDES
SARATOGA YOUTH'S DEATH

John F. Jensen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rasmus Jensen of the town of Saratoga, died at the Witter Hotel early Sunday morning after a week's illness of pneumonia. John had been a student at the Training School here and had been employed at the Witter Hotel during his spare time. About a week ago he was taken sick with pneumonia, the attack being a severe one and resulting in his death Sunday morning.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rasmus Jensen, and three sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Taisly, Miss Ida Jensen and Miss Rose Jensen, all of Chicago. Mr. A. H. Taisly, a brother-in-law, of Chicago, was also here. The funeral services were held Tuesday morning at 9:30 o'clock from Ragin's Chapel, Rev.
Theo. Reinke performing the ceremony. Burial was made in Forest
Hill Cemetery.

OLD RESIDENT AND MAIL
CARRIER DIED ON FRIDAY

Chris Nissen, one of the old residents of the city, passed away at his home in this city last Saturday morning at 8:30 o'clock, after an illness of two weeks with pneumonia. Mr.
Nissen had lived here the greater part of his life and was very well and favorably known. He was sixty-six years of age at the time of his death.

Mrs. Nissen came here when about twenty years of age and after being employed in local mercantile stores went into business for himself, operating the City Cash Store here some twenty-five years ago. Later he followed other lines of industry and about eleven years ago went in to the mail service, having been a carrier on the rural routes out of this city ever since. He was a trustworthy and efficient carrier who was well liked by all his patrons.

He is survived by three daughters,
Mrs. J. S. Vadnais of Brainerd,
Minnesota; Mrs. Ethel and Irene
Nissen of this city. One brother,
Martin, of this city, and a sister,
Mrs. Charles Benson, of Plover road, also survive him.

The funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 from the house, burial being made in Forest
Hill cemetery.

Edward Miller of Waupaca is here visiting at the home of his sister, Mrs. John Walter.

Mrs. Charles Benson received the sad news Saturday that one of her brothers in Grand Rapids had died there recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Voight spent Sunday afternoon at the John Walter home.

It is even truer that "proper shelter is cheaper than machinery." A farm machinery shed will pay for itself over and over in increased life of your tractor, binder, discs and so forth. A garage is a small investment for the protection of your auto. And sheltered machinery not only lasts longer but gives much better service with fewer repairs while it lasts.

PROMINENT YOUNG VESPER MAN DIED LAST THURSDAY

Emory C. Bennett, of Vesper, one of the well known young men of the southern part of Wood county, died at his home in Vesper last evening, about a week and a half previous and his sudden death came as a shock to his many friends throughout the county.

Mr. Bennett was born on his father's cranberry marsh thirty-two years ago and was raised there. Later he came to Grand Rapids to attend school, later attending the business college at Wausau where he completed their business course.

Mr. Bennett later associated himself with the Vesper Silo & Tank Co., being with this firm and located at Vesper for about four years.

About a year ago Emory returned to the cranberry business, being associated with his father in the Bennett marsh, where he has been since that time. During his stay on the marsh he was very successful in the cranberry business, his father and he having had a nice crop of berries last year and enjoying a very successful season.

He was married about ten years ago to Miss Georgia Conklin.

Mrs. Bennett moved from the marsh back to Vesper this fall, Mr. Bennett staying on the marsh.

The wedding day has been forgotten, rather had, bringing a severe cold and decided to go to Vesper to spend a few days until he felt better.

The roads were in bad shape and the best means of traveling was to walk which Emory did. He arrived home all right but was taken sick the next day, never recovering.

Emory was a young man of excellent character, an ambitious and successful man with strong traits of character. His untimely death was very sad and caused great deal of sorrow in this city among his friends here as well as in Vesper and throughout the cranberry country.

He is survived by his wife and three children, the latter being Arthur, Carroll and Bessie, Arthur, the oldest being about nine years of age. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Bennett, also survive him.

The funeral services were held Saturday afternoon from the Congregational Church in Vesper, Rev. Vaughan of the village conducting the services. Burial was made in Forest Hill Cemetery in this city.

DEATH OF KENNETH STOCKING

(Contributed)

Sergt. Kenneth W. Stocking, of St. Paul Minn., died Sunday morning, Jan. 25th, 1920, of pneumonia, at the residence of his mother, Mrs. Jennie R. Stocking, 738 Burr St. He was born Oct. 4th, 1894, and was 26 years, 3 months and 21 days old. He enlisted in the regular army at Ft. McDowell, Cal., Dec. 17, 1914, and after having been stationed there for about three months he was sent to the Hawaiian Islands and was stationed there at Schofield Barracks on the island of Oahu, near the city of Honolulu. He was in Troop "I"-th Cavalry and after having served four years and three months on the island was transferred to McAllen, Texas, where he remained three months. He arrived in McAllen, Tex., about January 1919, employed in the wholesale house of Philip Van Slyck & Co., McConnellsburg, where he had formerly held a position before entering the service.

His mother is his sole survivor, his father, Henry J. Stocking, having died in Feb., 1911, and his brother, Geo. W. Stocking, died in Franco, Jan. 26, 1919, and was buried on Jan. 27, 1919, with full military honors. Funeral services for both brothers having been held on same date one year apart.

Funeral services were held at the undertaking parlor of J. G. Thaung on 233-W. 7th St. at 2:30 p. m., Tuesday, Jun. 27, 1920. Members of St. Paul Camp No. 1, Sons of Veterans acted as honorary pallbearers, the active pallbearers being friends of the deceased. A detail from Co. "A" Sons of Veterans Reserve fired a salute, and John Drake bugler sounded taps.

The body was placed temporarily in a receiving vault in Forest Cemetery, and later will be taken to the family burial lot at Grand Rapids, W. Va.

Dr. N. A. Goddard.

Dear Doctor:

It is with pleasure that I write to you to let you know that after taking eleven months treatment I am completely cured. When I first saw Dr. Goddard with you I weighed 172 pounds and now my weight is 190, had been sick for over a year and had consulted with different doctors, but they didn't seem to help me, they wanted to operate on me, so one day I met one of your patients, and she told me to go and see you and I am very thankful I did. I am pleased to have my statement published, and I hope it will help someone to believe. Wishing you success, I remain,

BIRON

Harold Zager has received his instructions for the new band, and it is a fine line set.

George Leverance, the proud possessor of a new cornet, attended the directors meeting at the bank Monday.

Charles Hamm was on the sick list the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Muir, Mrs. James Cheattle, Archie Shearer and A. L. Akey and son took in the show at Day's Theatre and all pronounced it a good show.

Miss Belle Raynor of Rudolph, who is attending school in your city, was a call in this village lately.

Woy was received here by Percy Kueffert, who said his brother Harry was quite sick in Chicago, but was considerably better at this writing.

Mrs. Herman Zauer of your city was in our village visiting for a few days.

The basket social at the school house here was well attended. Cards were played, Mrs. Ulrich Schank winning the first prize and Walter Peivinski winning the gentleman's prize.

Mrs. W. Bruebaker was called to Peoria, Ill., to care for her son, who is very ill.

Mrs. John McDonald was shopping in your city one day the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Hayome and baby boy spent Sunday at Rudolph with their parents.

Eric Geitstaf was on the sick list the past week.

The Biron boys had one more good game Saturday night and they came home with a long string of blue ribbons.

AUBURNDALE.

Don't forget the hard time dance at Baier's hall Thursday, Feb. 5.

Mrs. E. P. Rifeisen of Stratford is visiting at the A. Shuster home this week.

Miss Alice Kennedy who has been visiting her parents, the past week returned to Downing Monday.

Mr. H. Blonian, J. C. Kleffer, Mr. and Mrs. P. Osiiver and daughter Jane, Mrs. Ben Heintz, Mrs. J. Zwaska, Mrs. J. Egger and son Verr, Mrs. R. A. Connor and the Misses Clara Seboe, Anna Heeg, Anna Kennedy and Margaret Fuerher, were Marshfield visitors this week.

The Misses Florence Leewe and Alice Kennedy returned Monday after spending a few days at Milwaukee.

Mrs. C. P. Vining of Chicago was called here on account of the illness of her brother, C. F. Boothroyd.

Miss Julia McMullen of Sheboygan arrived Wednesday to visit her brother Leo (McMullen) who is ill with the "flu." There are a number of cases in this vicinity. Ben Darms is also ill.

VANDRIESEN

Some snow in these parts at present. The roads are blocked so it's almost impossible to get out anywhere.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Ramsey of Saratoga were Sunday visitors with the lady's uncle, Mr. Isreal Jero, of this berg.

Harve Evans and son Jess are hauling pulp to Kellner.

Stor Jero and Richard Carlson were callers at C. E. Ducks Sunday afternoon.

Veterinarian Pane of Hancock was called out Monday to doctor one of John Lyness' horses. It got along every day during the time that I was under treatment and I have been cured and am as strong as ever. I am thoroughly satisfied with the way you treated me and have recommended you to friends who have also taken treatment. I wear no truss and would never know that I had a rupture. You may refer anyone to me wishing to investigate your method of treating rupture without operation.

TALKS ON HEAVY SOILS

The Colby clays and other heavy soils of Central and Northern Wisconsin are among the most productive in the world when handled right, according to soils experts. Probably no one is more familiar with this type of soils than F. L. Musbach, of the College of Agriculture, with headquarters at Marshfield. At one series of four institutes last winter at which Mr. Musbach spoke the farmers signed up for 800 tons of lime. Mr. Musbach gives exceptionally strong talks on commercial fertilizers and heavy soils. He is one of the speakers at the Farmers Institute at Grand Rapids next week. Farmers are invited to bring in samples of soils for him to test.

CITY POINT

Born to Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Jensen a baby boy February 3.

Dr. Beyer was called to see Johnnie Michalak who was very ill. Later Johnnie passed away Tuesday morning, February 3.

Nearly everybody is over the small pox.

A. J. Amundson was a business caller at Grand Rapids Monday.

Carl Nelson has been sick with rheumatism but is on the gain.

Leon Wright and son Voryl were visiting his parents last week.

Hattie Diehn and Mrs. Hugo Leon left for Grand Rapids Monday.

Dr. Mortenson was called to see Mrs. A. Shrupry.

Bennie Bauch left for Chicago Tuesday where he is employed.

BRING WIFE TO INSTITUTE

Farmers, don't leave friend wife at home when you come to the Farmers Institute next week, as there will be a special institute for her.

We'll admit that she is a fine cook, a bang up good wife, and an ideal mother. You'll admit it would be pretty tough sledging without her. Her work is pretty nearly as omnental as yours.

During each forenoon she will enjoy a program at the armory, and at 1:30 all the "women folks" can get together with Mrs. C. E. Hatch and have a session of their own. She will surely enjoy this, so try and get someone to leave with the kids and bring her with you.

FARMERS!

Increased crop production with what labor you will have available next season is the big problem facing you. At the Farmers' Institute next week you will have an opportunity of learning how Limestone, Fertilizers and Soy Beans are helping hundreds of farmers all around us. Soy Beans are out of our line but we are in position to take care of your Limestone and Fertilizer requirements, fine and dandy.

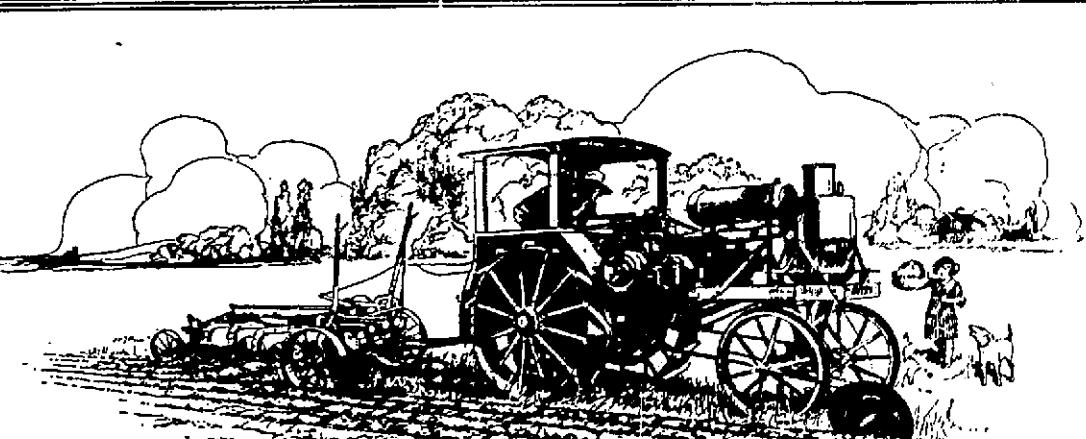

Limestone is the only material we know of that has not advanced in price any to speak of during the past year. We can sell you Waukesha Quality Limestone in practically any quantity you desire at a very low price. This is a busy time for Waukesha people as orders are coming into their plant every day from farmers who want to haul on sleighs. We believe we can get satisfactory shipment of all orders taken before February 15th but after that we are not so sure.

We have made a study of the Fertilizer proposition and will have a carload of Armour's Big Crop Fertilizers for Spring use. We will have a special brand for Corn on heavy soil and Corn on light soil. The same with Grain and Potatoes. These Fertilizers are licensed by the State to be sold in the State and a guaranteed analysis is printed on each bag so you take no chances on buying this from us for any crop.

Orders for both Limestone and Fertilizers may be left with us during the Institute, if desired.

The Power of Money

When William Payne, the banker at Bisonville, decreed that no farmer who did not raise cows as well as wheat could borrow money from him, the angry grain growers almost lynched him. But they had to do as he demanded—and today his county is an oasis in a blowaway desert; his depositors and borrowers are prosperous farmers, his bank is looked upon as the agricultural father of the whole countryside! Such is The Power of Money for Good. Herbert Quick, formerly a member of the Farm Loan Board, tells the story in the February 7th issue of

The COUNTRY GENTLEMAN

It is the first article in a great new series about country banks. The business of a bank—of this bank—and the prosperity of its farmer customers are closely related. That is why we stand ready at all times to give to you whatever service is in our power. Consult with us about your farming plans. Let us help you in your financial plans. Keep your money on deposit with us. Let us advise you what to read about farming; let us, in fact, send in your subscription for THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN. For only $1.00 you can read Herbert Quick's series and all the other splendid articles that will appear in the next 52 issues of the Great National Farm Weekly.

The Lower Rio Grande Valley OF TEXAS

COME with us for a ten days' trip to the Magic Valley.

SEE with your own eyes and learn from the farmers themselves of the remarkable opportunities offered.

EFFICIENT IRRIGATION. Rain when you want it and as much as you want the entire year round.

SOIL, finer than you have ever seen. A pure silt loam deposit of the Rio Grande River.

CLIMATE, the most even the year round of any place in the United States. Summer weather is not hot in the Lower Rio Grande Valley. (Refer to Weather Bureau statistics.)

LABOR conditions not equalled anywhere.

Civic progression, social and religious conditions equal to or better than our best Northern communities.

Every Day a { PLANTING GROWING HARVESTING MARKETING } DAY

Cabbage is now marketing in the valley for $85.00 per ton. We are averaging ten to fifteen tons per acre. Figure it out.

Our Bermuda onions, egg plant, peppers, tomatoes, carrots, etc., are unexcelled.

Our corn is No. 1 and is marketed in July and August when the price is highest.

Our broom corn, sorghum, sugar cane, alfalfa, Rhodes grass, etc., yield excellent returns.

Cattle and hogs thrive wonderfully well in the valley. We pasture from three to five grown head of stock to the acre on green pasture the year round.

The Citrus fruit (grapefruit, oranges, lemons, tangerines, limes, etc.) produced in the Valley are superior in every way to California or Florida fruit.

Our excursions leave every week and cover a period of ten days. Our rates are reasonable.

We will give you courteous, kind attention, guarantee you a pleasant trip and bring you home glad you came with us.

You place yourself under no obligation to buy or anything else if our proposition is not exactly as represented.

We are the largest land selling organization in the United States and our methods are square, truthful and pleasant.

APR. 6 NOTICE OF REFERENDUM ON PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS APRIL 12, 1920

State of Wisconsin, Department of State, ss.
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that at the time of holding elections for members of the Legislature, on the 12th day of April, 1920, there shall be held a referendum on the following proposed Amendments to the Constitution of the State of Wisconsin, which were twice adopted by the Wisconsin Legislature at the regular session of 1919, and 1920, and published for three months as required by said Section 1 of Article XII of the Wisconsin Constitution will be submitted to a vote of the electors of this state for their ratification or rejection, the engine stopped and later Mr. Kreitlow attempt to start it. His wife heard the engine start and stop again. Later she went to investigate and found her husband lying upon a stone wall ten feet from the engine, the above-mentioned injuries inflicted.

He was rushed to the Marshfield hospital where silver plates replaced several missing pieces of bone. After lying in an unconscious condition for three days the man regained consciousness and is apparently going to recover. He is unable to remember what happened to him.

JOINT RESOLUTION No. 37, 1919

To amend section 21 of Article IV of the constitution relating to compensation of members of the legislature.

WHEREAS, At the biennial session of the legislature in the year 1917 an amendment to the constitution was proposed and agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each of the two houses, which proposed amendment failed to pass;

Resolved by the Assembly, the Senate concurring, That section 21 of Article IV of the constitution be amended to read: (Article IV, Section 21)
Each member of the legislature shall receive for his services . . . such sum . . . to be paid at such times and in such manner as shall be prescribed by law. . . . The compensation prescribed for members of the legislature shall remain prior to the adoption of this amendment shall continue in force until changed by the legislature in a manner consistent with the other provisions of the constitution which relate thereto;

Resolved by the Assembly, the Senate concurring, That the foregoing proposed amendment to the constitution of the state of Wisconsin be and the same is hereby agreed to by this legislature;

Section 7. For each circuit there shall be chosen by the qualified electors thereof one circuit judge.

Section 8. As the legislature may from time to time authorize . . . Every circuit judge shall reside in the circuit from which he is elected and shall receive such compensation as the legislature shall prescribe; now, therefore, be it enacted . . .

Resolved by the Senate, the Assembly concurring, That the foregoing proposed amendment to the constitution of the state of Wisconsin be and the same is hereby agreed to by this legislature;

Section 7. For each circuit there shall be chosen by the qualified electors thereof one circuit judge.

Section 8. As the legislature may from time to time authorize . . . Every circuit judge shall reside in the circuit from which he is elected and shall receive such compensation as the legislature shall prescribe; now, therefore, be it enacted . . .

Resolved by the Senate, the Assembly concurring, That section 6, article VII, and section 7, article VII of the constitution, be amended to read:

(Article VII, Section 6)
The legislature may alter the limits, decrease or increase the number of circuits, making them as compact and convenient as practicable, and bounding them by county lines; but no such alteration, decrease or increase shall have the effect to remove a judge from office. In case of an increase in circuits, the judge of judges shall be elected as provided in this constitution, and receive a salary not less than that now provided for judges of the circuit court.

Section 7. For each circuit there shall be chosen by the qualified electors thereof one circuit judge.

Section 8. As the legislature may from time to time authorize . . . Every circuit judge shall reside in the circuit from which he is elected and shall receive such compensation as the legislature shall prescribe; now, therefore, be it enacted . . .

Resolved by the Senate, the Assembly concurring, That the foregoing proposed amendment to the constitution of the state of Wisconsin be and the same is hereby agreed to by this legislature;

Section 7. For each circuit there shall be chosen by the qualified electors thereof one circuit judge.

Section 8. As the legislature may from time to time authorize . . . Every circuit judge shall reside in the circuit from which he is elected and shall receive such compensation as the legislature shall prescribe; now, therefore, be it enacted . . .

Resolved by the Senate, the Assembly concurring, That section 6, article VII, and section 7, article VII of the constitution, be amended to read:

(Article VII, Section 6)
The legislature may alter the limits, decrease or increase the number of circuits, making them as compact and convenient as practicable, and bounding them by county lines; but no such alteration, decrease or increase shall have the effect to remove a judge from office. In case of an increase in circuits, the judge of judges shall be elected as provided in this constitution, and receive a salary not less than that now provided for judges of the circuit court.

Section 7. For each circuit there shall be chosen by the qualified electors thereof one circuit judge.

Section 8. As the legislature may from time to time authorize . . . Every circuit judge shall reside in the circuit from which he is elected and shall receive such compensation as the legislature shall prescribe; now, therefore, be it enacted . . .

NOTICE OF REFERENDUM ON PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS
APRIL 6, 1920.

State of Wisconsin, Department of
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that at the time of holding the regular Spring, Judicial and National Delegate Elections, to be held in the several towns, wards, villages and election precincts of the state of Wisconsin on the first Tuesday of April, 1920, being the sixth day of said month, in accordance with Section 1 of Article XII of the Constitution of the State of Wisconsin, and as directed by Chapters 101 and 102 of the Laws of Wisconsin for 1919, the following proposed Amendments to the Constitution of the State of Wisconsin, which were twice adopted by the Wisconsin legislature at the regular sessions of 1917 and 1919, and published for this purpose as required by law, will be submitted to a vote of the electors of this state for their ratification or rejection in such manner as is provided by law. (J. T. Res. No. 13, 1919.)

PITTSVILLE MAN BATTERED UP CRANKING GAS ENGINE

Charles Kreitlow, who resides northwest of Pittsville, in the Marshfield hospital, his upper and lower jaws fractured, his right arm broken in three places, his skull fractured, his left ear slit nearly its entire length, and his face badly lacerated following an accident that befell him while cranking a gas engine on his farm. According to the Pittsville Record there was no witness to the accident and just how it occurred is more or less a mystery. Mr. and Mrs. Kreitlow were eating dinner, a two and one-half horsepower gas engine running the washing machine. During their dinner the engine stopped and later Mr. Kreitlow went to start it. His wife heard the engine start and ran again. Later she went to investigate and found her husband lying upon a stone wall ten feet from the engine, the above-mentioned injuries inflicted.

URGES GROWING SOY BEANS ON LIGHT SOILS IN COUNTY

The time is coming when you should be thinking, if you have not already done so, about your supply of seed for spring planting. I know of several farmers on the light soils who have sold from $50 to $75 worth of soy bean seed from an acre of land last year. This is a pretty fair income. In addition they have the soy bean straw which has a higher feeding value than the straw of any of the grains.

If you are after seed alone, plant the Little Black. If you want hay and silage use Wisconsin grown John Son Seed. A great deal of Mammoth Yellow seed was used last year. It made wonderful growth but produced practically no pods. If you don't know where to secure seed, get in touch with me and I will inform you where seed may be obtained.

By all means inoculate your seed. We expect to have a supply of inoculation on hand, the same as last year. Will have more definite information as to this later. We had many farmers planting soy beans last year, that inoculated part of their beans but failed to inoculate all of them. Reports from a large number of them show that inoculation is money and time well spent.

W. W. Clark, County Agent

TO DISCUSS SOY BEANS

The farmer on light soils has problems of his own, and he has some problems which he did not know about. For some years it has been the work of Mr. H. W. Ullspurger of the College of Agriculture to experiment and demonstrate with sandy soils. Mr. Ullspurger has charge of the light soils farm at Hauecoch and has accomplished many things there. For the last few years he has worked in the Light Soils-Live Stock Institute which will be held at Grand Rapids on February 12th and 13th.

Mr. C. S. Ristow, who operates a light soils farm near Black River Falls, and has made a remarkable success with his farm, will assist Professor Ullspurger. He will discuss the care and feeding of live stock, how he handles the fertility problem and the growing and handling of crops for his dairy herd.

Do you raise soy beans? If not, come and hear about this great new crop, excellent for light soils and a crop which will reduce feed bills and help you keep more stock.

Every farmer attending this institute should bring in a sample of his soil to be tested.

RISING TO TALK HERE

At the coming Farmers' Institute at Grand Rapids the farmers will have opportunity to hear a farmer who has made a great success at farming light soils. Mr. C. S. Ristow of Black River Falls bought a farm which about everyone gave him three or four years to fall on. But he's there yet, and has developed a fine herd of Guernseys, has some extra good hogs, splendid buildings, a concrete barn yard, a seed corn house, and grows fine clover, alfalfa and lots of soy beans. He is a member of the cooperative fruit marketing association of Door county. Hear him at the Farmers' Institute at Grand Rapids, February 12th and 13th, and bring a sample of your soil for him to test.

NOTE.—(If ratified this amendment will permit the legislature to abolish any judicial circuit at the expiration of the term of any judge to determine the number of circuits by resolution otherwise and to authorize one or more judges for any circuit court.)

Animals in Captivity.

Captivity causes many wild animals to live shorter lives than they would if left in their natural habitat. This is peculiarly true of foxes and monkeys. Gorillas and apes die so soon after being captured that they are rarely seen in zoological gardens. Turtles, elephants and snakes seem to suffer not at all from captivity.

WOULD RE-ORGANIZE COW TESTING ASS'N

Two years ago there were three cow testing associations in Wood County. At the present time there are none. Due to war conditions, etc., it was practically impossible to get a good tester. By paying the price, good men are now available. I believe that in order to keep step with Wood County's progress along dairy lines, several cow testing associations should be organized this winter. The scrub and grade sires are rapidly disappearing from our herds. Not a day goes by when we hear of some one getting a pure bred sire or inquiring where he can get one or more pure bred females.

Last year our three sales totaled over $46,000. We, undoubtedly, go way beyond that this year.

The cow testing association is the proper foundation on which to build official testing. If each member who joins the cow testing association will pay $2.00 a month, or $1.75 a month when two go together and meet the same day, we would have ample funds to hire a good tester and take care of other necessary expenses. Grade cows have sold in the County within the last year, up to $225.00 each. There were cow testing records back of them. Last year a carload were bought in Richland County at an average price of $225.00. They or their dams had good testing records. We, in this country, cannot afford not to test.

Now, if you are interested in this call and see me, use the telephone, or write. Better still, talk the matter up with your neighbors and arrange for a little meeting in your school house. Let me know and I will be there and start your organization.

This is a good idea. Get busy yourself. You, in part, are responsible for making Wood County the greatest dairy county in the greatest dairy state of the union.

One thing you will be particularly interested in is the evening session on Thursday, Feb. 12th. It is all right to hear what some fellows say about Limestone, Fertilizer, etc., but you and I like to SEE the results with our own eyes.

Mr. Ullspurger is bringing with him a number of photographs that are used with a stereopticon machine he has with him.

As a view of some field is thrown on the screen, he explains just what has happened on that field. The views are from all sections of the state, on sand, marsh and clay soils.

It is kind of hard for some farmers to get in for an evening meeting, but it will pay you to make the attempt. Mr. Ullspurger will take you to dozens of farms around the state in a few minutes, and when you go home you will have a mental picture of just what other farmers are accomplishing on farms just like yours.

Come for the opening session at 10:00 o'clock on Thursday, and stay through until Friday afternoon. It will be the best time you have spent this winter.

Yours very truly,

What the War Did For American Farming

By Robert H. Moulton

DURING the past two years the methods of production and conservation employed by the farmers of this country have advanced 20 years of peace times. Prior to 1914, and even up to the declaration of war by the United States, there were farmers in every community who were not interested in county agents, farmers' institutes, the agricultural colleges, or the United States department of agriculture. But when war was declared and Uncle Sam asked the farmers to grow more foodstuffs of every kind, those who had before assumed an attitude of indifference responded to the call. Throughout the nation these farmers, with a spirit of patriotism and an additional inducement of fair prices and an assurance of reasonable compensation for their expenditures, called upon the federal department and other agencies that could give them information. The attitude as well as the spirit of the farmers changed from peace-time to war-time farming.

Improved methods and practices adopted and now being applied have come to stay. In future farming methods there should be little question as to the practice of the man who has treated his oats for sowing and has increased his yield; the man who has applied fertilizer to his wheat and has increased his crop five to ten bushels an acre; the man who has sought information on the feeding of the cattle and has found that by adding protein to the ration he can produce a pound of beef with one pound of corn where the old ration required 13 pounds of grain; the man who was encouraged to build a silo through which he is able to feed a carload of cattle with the crops from 16 acres of land when before it required 26 acres. Men who have learned these lessons, have seen the result, and have profited by them, are not going back to old-time methods. Farmers are reaching out in a broader way for additional aid.

Last fall farmers planted 49,000,000 acres of wheat, and while the early prospective yield was reduced to some extent by reason of adverse weather and insect enemies, a crop of approximately 1 billion bushels is the result. This huge crop is the direct result of the good methods of farming that were employed. In the fall of 1918, there were more tons of fertilizer applied to this wheat than during any previous year. There was more early plowing. There was better cultivation. There was better selection of varieties and better treatment of the seed. There was more top-dressing of the crop with straw and manure than ever was known in any other year. Part of the crop was due to favorable weather. In some localities, some just to plow tuck, but the big results achieved in the wheat fields all over the country was due to the improved methods employed by farmers.

There is large and sufficient evidence to show that agriculture has made a rapid, sure, and substantial advance. If that is true, then agriculture will not readily revert.

At no time has the farmer been called upon to give greater attention to the business side of his operations. In this day of high-priced land, labor, seed, fertilizer, machinery, and other materials and equipment, careful attention must be given to economical production. Industrial plants have found it necessary to introduce the cost-accounting system in order that the cost of each part manufactured may be determined. In the same way, farmers must conduct their business and know more definitely the desirable and profitable lines of production.

Not every farmer has it within his power to increase his acreage, but he can very materially increase his income by judiciously increasing the size of his business. There is one way of doing this that seems to be open to farmers in practically all parts of the country. The simplest and surest way for the landlocked farmer to make more money is to produce more and better live stock. There is but limited opportunity for expansion in the production of the intensively grown crops, but there is great opportunity for expansion

Talk of Navy Chaperons

Possibility of Something New Developing in the Life Led by the Joyous "Goo."

The rumor is spreading that the navy is to equip its ships with chaperons.

The little-known privilege of a gob has been to do all the harmless love-making he can find time for during his stay in port, says the Kansas City Star. Riverside drive is festooned with clean-looking kids hand-holding with nice-looking girls. The gobs and the girls go to shows together and take the girls rides together and kiss each other with youthful caution. No chaperon can control them on the streets. But the girls are permitted to visit the gobs on board ship, and it is felt that navy wantness is somewhat impaired by the spectacle of young couples spooning behind every gun.

So the navy may have chaperons. Whether they are to accompany the ships on their cruises, or to respond to danger signals only when the fleet is in an American port, has not yet been settled. Nor is it likely that the navy recruiters will tell who the gobs too much about the chaperons.

Napoleon's Eagle Failed as Symbol. When Prince Louis Napoleon made his theatrical attempt to usurp the throne of France from Louis Philippe, he carried with him from England a real live eagle, which it was intended to liberate on landing, in the hope that it would circle around the prince's head as a symbol of victory. It was bought at Gravesend for a pound from a boy who had kept it chained up as a pet. When the expedition landed at Boulogne the bird was set free, but instead of soaring around as a symbol of the Napoleonic dynasty, it flew straight away and sought shelter in the slaughterhouse of Boulogne.

"Ladies and gentlemen, as you know, The Wizard of the North gives his first show Monday night, and as you are now all my friends, I would like to have you accept passes to see the opening performance," and he began writing passes as fast as he could.

Anderson stood it as long as he could, but finally, with visions of having to do his first show to a deadhead audience, he finally weakened and confessed.

One day he met a man named Anderson who was a magician and billed

LIGNITE IN SYRIA.

In the ordinary sense of the word, does not exist in Syria, but there are beds of lignite containing traces of vegetable organisms. The principal beds are in the Mettu; that of Corse, which has been worked; and in the district of Jezzine, those of Nahr and Hantour to the east of Sidon. This is very extensive but shallow and close to the surface. At Jezzine amber, yellow and black, is abundant.—Christian Science Monitor.

Honors Were With Barnum

Fellow Diner Who Thought to Have Joke on Shawman Found the Tables Turned.

Turning the joke back on the other fellow was a great stunt for Barnum, the circus king, and recalls an episode of his tour of England.

One day he met a man named Anderson himself as "The Wizard of the North." Anderson lured Barnum to a dinner at which both were strangers, and thinking to have a little fun, introduced Barnum to the assemblage as "The Wizard of the North."

Not the least taken aback, Barnum gracefully acknowledged the introduction, and bowing to the assemblage.

WIFE MADE HIM BECOME BURGLAR

Detroit Man Tires of Robbing, Kills Woman and Himself.

LETTER TELLS OF LIFE

"Stay Straight and Don't Fall in Love With the Butterfly Type of Woman" is His Advice to Others.

Detroit, Mich.—That his wife made him become a burglar in order to provide her with more money than he was able to earn honestly, is the assertion made in a letter by William Newell, who shot and killed his wife Violet, 26, and then ended his life with a bullet. The woman was strikingly handsome, having won beauty contests in Detroit and Buffalo.

"I have my experience will be a lesson to other young lads," Newell advised in the letter. "Stay straight and don't fall in love with the butterfly type of woman as I did."

The letter, which was addressed to the chief of police, follows:

Wife Ran Away With Another.

"Dear Sir: Just a few lines to let you know why I shot my wife and killed myself. Four years ago today she ran away with a gink in Buffalo and went to Pittsburgh. I have always had a good reputation until I married this woman. I had a clean divorce from her and the judge told me to take good care of the little girl. Later I took her back on condition she would live straight; then I quit my good job and came to Detroit so I wouldn't hear the people say 'Bill, you are a fool to take her back.'

"As for the last two weeks she has done nothing but lie to me. I have caught her lying in a million lies, and believe that if Mrs. — (the other man's wife) saw what I saw Saturday morning she would be looking for a divorce also."

Goaded by Wife's Taunts.

"I'll tell you what I've done for her. She said: 'Bill, if you don't quit your job at the Detroit Trailer and get more money, some day I'll leave you and take Marie and you never will see either of us.' So, like a fool, I listened to her. She knew a crook while she was in Pittsburgh and he told her how easy it was to open a safe, and she should be considered in the selection of men for that office."

"Fifth. That the highest rates of taxes levied during the war on incomes, corporations, and excess profits be continued until the full cost of the war has been paid, and that the government also levy a tax on the value of land and other natural resources held for speculative purposes.

"Sixth. We urge the adoption of a far-reaching patriotic policy for the reclamation of the waste lands of all sections of the country for the purpose of enlarging the area of agricultural products.

"Seventh. We demand the most vigorous enforcement of all federal laws to prevent the immigration of undesirable aliens, and we also urge the prompt deportation of all aliens seeking to overthrow our government and destroy our free institutions.

Eighth. We believe that the principle of cooperation should be applied to the solution of our marketing and industrial problems, to the advantage of the producing, consuming, and laboring classes.

"Ninth. We are opposed to the maintenance of war-time armaments in time of peace and to any system of military organization that includes universal military training."

Oyster Shells for Poultry

Oyster shell is not needed by chicks, but pullets and hens do better for having oyster shell as a regular part of their ration. This was proved by the New York agricultural experiment station some years ago, when a poultry writer condemned the use of oyster shell as unnecessary. The New York station proved that a pound of oyster shell contains enough lime to manufacture about seven dozen eggs. This should not be fed in the mash. Fowls know more about what they need to eat than we do. If they have the shell, ground bone, meat scraps and grit in hoppers before them, with a variety of ground grains in dry mash, we will balance their ration better than we can balance it for them.

So the farmer who seeks to increase his business by going into live stock enterprises will make a grave mistake unless he pays strict attention to the vital question of quality of stock. It is not necessary to begin with expensive registered animals, for good grade stock will serve, but it is essential that great care be exercised in selecting the individual animals that are to serve as the foundation of the herd or flock. When such care is taken, however, there is no safer way for the farmer to increase the size of his business than by intensive production of live stock.

Combat Vermin on Animals

It doesn't take much argument to convince the owner of lousy stock that relief measures should be inaugurated to combat the lice and relieve the animals. Let's show on animals usually in the winter and early spring months. The harm they do is then very apparent. Stock owners usually busy themselves when the life and thrifit of the infested animal is seriously involved. But it takes greater argument to get the average stock owner to combat lice on animals that do not look lousy. Lousy spring animals were also lousy fall animals. The only difference is in the number of lice. Why not kill the few lice now that apparently do no harm, instead of the many that have done harm

Fertilizer on Grass Lands

To keep up the organic matter of the soil and thereby improve the fertility it is important to maintain good sod. In other words, it is a mistake to keep mowing a field until the yield of hay are no longer profitable and then plow up the soil for some other crop. If a field is to be mown more than once a year it should be fertilized each year after the first with either manure or commercial fertilizer. Nothing is better for a top-dressing than manure, which may be applied when weather permits at any time during the winter. Fertilizer should be applied at the rate of 200 to 300 pounds of the mixture to an acre.

Chagrin Falls, O.—O. H. Woodward and a companion started on an auto trip to a fishing place. Unable to obtain bait, they feared the catch would be small. Half way to their destination the auto turned over. Woodward was thrown clear of the machine, but his companion was pinned underneath. When the machine was finally lifted the man inside was found purring among the ruins in the bait pail, for the machine had torn up the ground.

O'Brien is a baseball man of varied experience, whose career has been brilliant in the extreme. As president of the American association he placed the Class AA circuit in the first rank of minor league baseball.

John B. Foster, the retiring secretary, has been a popular official. Now York football fans owe him a debt of gratitude. It was his untiring efforts that brought annual army-navy and other major gridiron battles to the Polo grounds.

WASHINGTON CLUB IS BOUGHT BY GRIFFITH

Together With Philadelphian He Is Now in Control.

Manager of Nationals Will Be in Absolute Power and is Expected to Make Many Changes in the Personnel of Team.

Clark Griffith has purchased the controlling interest in the Washington baseball club. The veteran manager, who has piloted the Nationals since 1912, associated with William M. Richardson, a Philadelphia grain merchant, obtained approximately four-fifths of the 20,000 shares of the corporation for $400,000. Griffith, in the reorganization, will become president and remain as manager for the time being at least.

The syndicate which made the purchase is expected to make big changes in the personnel of the team and every effort will be made to strengthen the club's nine next season. The new purchasers, it is said, intend to cut loose from the policy of economy that has generally been followed and use every means possible to produce a winning combination. In short, it is felt that the city of Washington will be put to the test in 1920.

Griffith, who is now in the class of John McGraw and Connie Mack as a manager owning considerable stock, has been in baseball since 1887. He broke in that year in Bloomington, Ill. In 1891 he got in the majors with the old St. Louis Browns, then managed by Charlie Conliskay, who was playing first base.

Griffith, one of the greatest pitchers the game ever had, was on the coast in 1892 and the following season went to the old Chicago White Stockings. He was one of the stars of that famous outfit until 1901 when he managed Conliskay's club in the American league and won his only pennant with it.

When the Yankees entered the league in 1903 Griffith was their first manager. He was in New York until the middle of the season of 1908, when he and Frank Farrell, then owner of the club, had a disagreement. The next year Griffith managed the Cincinnati Reds, and he was Garry Herrmann's manager until he was made manager of the Nationals in 1912.

What the War Did For American Farming

By Robert H. Moulton

UP-TO-DATE HOG

SHE PAYS HER WAY

THE THIEF COW

URING the past two years the methods of production and conservation employed by the farmers of this country have advanced 20 years of peace time. Prior to 1911, and even up to the declaration of war by the United States, there were farmers in every community who were not interested in county agents, Farmers' Institutes, the agricultural colleges, or the United States department of agriculture. But when war was declared and Uncle Sam asked the farmers to grow more food-stuffs of every kind, those who had before assumed an attitude of indifference responded to the call. Throughout the nation these farmers, with a spirit of patriotism and an additional inducement of profits and an assurance of reasonable compensation for their expenditures called upon the federal department and other agencies that could give them information. The attitude as well as the spirit of the farmers changed from peace-time to war-time farming.

Improved methods and genetics adopted and now being applied have come to stay. In future farming methods there should be little question as to the practice of the man who has treated his oats for snot and has increased his yield; the man who has applied fertilizer to his wheat and has increased his crop five to ten bushels an acre; the man who has sought information on the feeding of cattle and has found that by adding protein to the ration he can produce a pound of beef with nine pounds of corn where the old ration required 13 pounds of grain; the man who was encouraged to build a silo through which he is able to feed a certain of cattle with the crops from 10 acres of land when before it required 26 acres. Men who have learned these lessons, have seen the result, and have profited by them, are not going back to old-time methods. Farmers are reaching out in a broader way for additional aid.

Last full farmers planted 40,000,000 acres of wheat, and while the early prospective yield was reduced in some extent by reason of adverse weather and insect infestation a crop of approximately a billion bushels is the result. This huge crop is the direct result of the good methods of farming that were employed in the fall of 1918. There were more tons of fertilizer applied to this wheat than during any previous year. There was more early plowing. There was better cultivation. There was better selection of varieties and better treatment of the seed. There was more top-dressing of the crop with straw and manure than ever was known in any other year. Part of the crop was due to favorable weather in some localities, some just to plain luck, but the big results achieved in the wheat fields all over the country was due to the improved methods employed by farmers.

There is large and sufficient evidence to show that agriculture has made a rapid, sure, and substantial advance. If that is true, then agriculture will not readily revert.

At no time has the farmer been called upon to give greater attention to the business side of his operations. In this day of high-priced land, labor, seed, fertilizer, machinery, and other materials and equipment, enough attention must be given to economical production. Industrial plants have found it necessary to introduce the cost-accounting system in order that the cost of each part manufactured may be determined. In the same way, farmers must conduct their business and know more definitely the desirable and profitable lines of production.

Not every farmer has it within his power to increase his acreage, but he can very materially increase his income by judiciously increasing the size of his business. There is one way of doing this that seems to be open to farmers in practically all parts of the country. The simplest and surest way for the landlocked farmer to make more money is to produce more and better live stock. There is but limited opportunity for expansion in the production of the intensively grown crops, but there is great opportunity for expansion

Napoleon's Eagle Failed as Symbol.

When Prince Louis Napoleon made his theatrical attempt to usurp the throne of France from Louis Philippe, he carried with him from England a live eagle, which it was intended to liberate on landing, in the hope that it would circle around the prince's head as a symbol of victory. It was bought at Gravesend for a pound from a man who had kept it chained up as a pet. When the expedition landed at Boulogne the bird was set free, but instead of soaring around as a symbol of the Napoleonic dynasty, it flew straight away and sought shelter in the slaughterhouse of Boulogne.

Anderson lured Barnum to a dinner at which both were strangers, and thinking to have a little fun, introduced Barnum to the assemblage as "The Wizard of the North."

Not the least taken aback, Barnum graciously acknowledged the introduction, and bowing to the assemblage said:

"Ladies and gentlemen, as you know,

"The Wizard of the North" gives his first show Monday night and as we are now all my friends, I would like to have you accept passes to see the opening performance," and he began writing passes as fast as he could.

Anderson stood it as long as he could, but finally, with visions of having to do his first show to a deadhead audience, he finally weakened and confessed.

WIFE MADE HIM BECOME BURGLAR

Detroit Man Tires of Robbing, Kills Woman and Himself.

LETTER TELLS OF LIFE

"Stay Straight and Don't Fall In Love
With the Butterfly Type of Woman" Is His Advice to Others.

Detroit, Mich.—That his wife made him become a burglar in order to provide her with more money than he was able to earn honestly, is the assertion made in a letter by William Newell, who shot and killed his wife Violet, 26, and then ended his life with a bullet. The woman was strikingly handsome, having won beauty contests in Detroit and Buffalo.

"I hope my experience will be a lesson to other young lads," Newell advised in the letter. "Stay straight and don't fall in love with the butterfly type of woman as I did."

The letter, which was addressed to the chief of police, follows:

Wife Ran Away With Another.

"Dear Sir: Just a few lines to let you know why I shot my wife and killed myself. Four years ago today she ran away with a gimp in Buffalo and went to Pittsburgh. I have always had a good reputation until I married this woman. I had a clean divorce from her and the judge told me to take good care of the little girl. Later I took her back on condition she would live straight; then I quit my good job and came to Detroit so I wouldn't hear the people say 'Bill, you are a root to take her back.'

"As for the last two weeks she has done nothing but lie to me. I have caught her and — in a million lies, and believe that if Mrs. — (the other man's wife) saw what I saw Saturday morning she would be looking for a divorce also."

Goaded by Wife's Taunts.

"I'll tell you what I've done for her. She said: 'Bill, if you don't quit your job at the Detroit Trailer and get more money, some day I'll leave you and take Marie and you never will see either of us.' So, like a fool, I listened to her. She knew a crook while she was in Pittsburgh and he told her that she was in trouble and he told her how easy it was to open a safe, and she

"Sixth. We urge the adoption of a far-seeing, patriotic policy for the reclamation of the waste lands or all sections of the country for the purpose of enlarging the area of agricultural production.

"Seventh. We demand the most vigorous enforcement of all federal laws to prevent the immigration of undesirable aliens, and we also urge the prompt deportation of all aliens seeking to overthrow our government and destroy our free institutions.

Eighth. We believe that the principle of co-operation should be applied to the solution of our marketing and industrial problems, to the advantages of the producing, consuming, and laboring classes.

"Ninth. We are opposed to the maintenance of war-time armaments in time of peace and to any system of military organization that includes universal military training."

Oyster Shells for Poultry

Oyster shell is not needed by chicks, but pellets and meal do better for laying oyster shell as a regular part of their ration. This was proved by the New York agricultural experiment station some years ago, when a poultry writer condemned the use of oyster shell as unnecessary.

The New York station proved that a pound of oyster shell contains enough lime to manufacture about seven dozen eggs. This should not be fed in the mash. Fowls know more about what they need to eat than we do. If they have the shell, ground bone, meat scraps and grit in hoppers before them, with a variety of ground grains in dry mash, they will balance their ration better than we can balance it for them.

Thanked for Cranking.

Some time ago I went with a friend to see an acquaintance at a hospital, and as we were leaving my friend stopped in the corridor to exchange a few words with a doctor. I walked outside, where a long line of cars was parked, starting in, and while I was cranking some one climbed into the car, but, thinking it was my companion, I did not even look up. Imagine my surprise when the motor began to whirr and the car started off smoothly. I looked up into the smiling face of a perfect stranger.

RECIPE FOR GRAY HAIR.

To half pint of water add 1 oz. Bay Rum, and 10 drops of Camphor, and 4 oz. of glycerine. Apply to the hair twice a week until it becomes the desired shade. Any druggist can put this up, or you can make it at home at very little cost. It will gradually darken streaked, faded gray hair, and will make it look like black again. It will not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy, and does not rub off.—Adv.

MAKING REAL DRIVE FOR GUARD RECRUITS

The week of February 8 to 14 has been designated as an intensive recruiting week for the Wisconsin National Guard. Every effort will be made here that week to obtain enough recruits to reach the maximum strength required by the war department so that the local organization may at once receive federal recognition after which the pay commences for drill at the rate of 66 2/3 cents an hour for privates and more for noncommissioned officers.

Each day a recruiting officer will be on duty at the armory and nightly reports will be made from this city as well as from every other in the state to the adjutant general. Every effort will be made to have this information to show the most energy in that regard.

Business men are asked to let their men off for duty, but to encourage them to enlist by allowing their pay to go on while they are at camp. Civilians in general who are interested in national defense are requested to give their moral support to the movement set for February 8-14.

It is desired that every man between 18 and 45 years of age do his part to put Grand Rapids across during the week by enlisting. Service men are requested to see the job thru, while those who were too young to take part in the war are asked to show their colors now.
